Stonewall Blues win U11A1 Winnipeg City Championship

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Blues U11A1 boys' hockey team had an incredible season as they went undefeated.

So, it was only fitting that the Blues' season ended in incredible fashion.

The Blues' Liam Meier scored the game-winning goal with just 3.6 seconds remaining to lift Stonewall to a thrilling 6-5 victory over the St. Vital Knights to claim the Winnipeg City Championship last Friday evening.

"It was pretty entertaining, that's for darn sure," said Blues' head coach Shaun Dalgleish.

"There were a lot of people in the stands for a good match. The kids were excited (to win it). We set our eyes on (the championship) in early November and we set that as our goal for the season."

Disney could not have written a better script for this game.

"It was back and forth," said Blues' assistant coach Dale McClintock. "We were down 3-0 in the first period. We came back and led 5-4 and they tied it with 52 seconds left in the game and then we scored the game winner with 3.6 seconds left to win it."

What a tremendous way to cap off a tremendous season.

"There's no quit in this team; they never give up," Dalgleish said. "We were always in it to win it. After the first period we were down 3-0 and I had an opportunity to chat with the boys and basically said to them right then and there that this is an opportunity for us to prove our worth and make a comeback."

This Blues' team was a special one

"It's a special group of kids," McClintock said. "To go undefeated through the regular season and undefeated through the playoffs, it's something special to be a part of. It will be tough to duplicate that. These kids just don't have any quit in them. Not one of them. They don't understand the word quit. They battled right to the end and they proved that (Friday) being down early in the game."

It was the only time all season that the Blues trailed by three goals in a game.

In Game 1 of the best-of-three final series, Stonewall defeated St. Vital 5-4 on March 14.

The Blues were outstanding at both ends of the rink all season.

"Our defence was exceptionally strong and our goaltender came a long way from the start of the season to the end of the season," McClintock said. "He was a different kid altogether. He battled through it and played very well. We had a group of hard-working forwards and a couple of skill guys that put the puck in (the net) in a

Loyal physiotherapist leaving Woodlands

By Nicole Brownlee

Woodlands Physiotherapy Services is closing its doors on March 31, marking the end of owner Lori Anne Lobb's 28th year servicing the community.

Lobb opened the practice in Woodlands in 1994 after moving to the community 12 years earlier with her husband, Garnett Lobb.

"The community has been very supportive. I've enjoyed meeting lots of people, and I've learned a lot from my clients."

Patients from across the Interlake visited the physiotherapy clinic for almost three decades.

"People have come here from Woodlands, Warren, Stonewall, Marquette, St. Laurent, Lundar, Eriksdale, Oak Point," said Lobb.

After living in Woodlands for 40 years, Lobb decided to close her practice and move to Gimli.

"We want to move now while we can," said Lobb.

"I'll definitely miss working here."

Lobb said she's looking forward to walking to the beach, learning more about her Icelandic heritage and visiting her family.

Gimli is a 30-minute drive from Riverton, Lobb's hometown.

"I also have lots of extended family in Riverton."

Lobb will continue offering physiotherapy on Tuesdays and Thursdays at Gimli Physiotherapy starting May 3.

Lobb would like to thank Shirley Jennings, Silver Peltier and Debbie Fleury for their hard work and dedication at the clinic and for helping her with anything she needed.

"I couldn't have done it without them," said Lobb.

Lobb also acknowledged high school students Ryen, Arianna, Emily and Cameron who worked at the clinic weekly and over the summer.

"I want to thank all of the people in the RM of Woodlands and the surrounding municipalities and my family for all their support over the years."

Students speak out about playground improvements

By Jennifer McFee

From a young age, local elementary students are already learning the power of advocacy.

Rosser School is aiming to raise $75,000 to improve its playground by installing a swing set, replacing a damaged slide and adding new feature equipment.

In mid-December, four Grade 3 and 4 students — Bruno, Vaughn, Vaughn and Elliot — brought the cause forward at an RM of Rosser council meeting, along with parent advisory council member Derek Boonstra and principal Morag Ivany.

“The students spoke about the benefits of the playground project. Each student spoke confidently and from the heart on why the project is important for them and future generations of students and community members,” Boonstra said.

“Presenting at council was an amazing opportunity for the Grade 3 and 4 students as they have been studying the different levels of government and the roles of the reeve and councillors in their social studies curriculum. A well-timed council break allowed for the students to enjoy some juice and cookies while mingling with the council and asking them countless questions about themselves and how the council operates.”

In January, they learned their presentation was a success since the RM of Rosser confirmed a $10,000 contribution to the playground project.

Rosser Reeve Frances Smee explained that council approved the funding after several meetings with the parent advisory council and other project stakeholders. She commended the group for their diligence, perseverance and flexibility in requesting funds from the municipality.

“The parent advisory committee worked hard to ensure that council was well informed of the importance of this local initiative,” Smee said, “which required a special request for the RM to provide funding in order to leverage the resources needed to initiate the project this year.”

At the same time, Smee expressed appreciation for the students’ heartfelt presentation.

“At the December meeting, Elliot, Vaughn, Whitney and Bruno came to present to council. They were all eloquent speakers and educated council on how important play structures are to the students of Rosser School. They each made a convincing presentation, explaining the social, health and emotional benefits that having access to a play structure provides,” she said.

“They explained how the older students make sure the younger students get a turn and that no one is left out.

It was our pleasure to support such a great project. And they and their classmates made and sent beautiful thank-you cards. We have good reason to be proud of the young people and staff at Rosser School.”

School principal Morag Ivany also expressed pride in the students’ impactful presentation.

“The students did a great job sharing their thoughts and ideas about why an additional swing set would be important on our playground, for both the school and the community,” Ivany said.

“The swing set has been purchased and it will hopefully be installed in May or June.”

Rosser Elementary School and its parent advisory council continue to focus on the importance of wellness, while also promoting mental health and physical development through play-based opportunities, Boonstra added.

“The playground is utilized by the students of Rosser Elementary School and the adjacent Rosser Community Club, which offers programming for children, youth and families to surrounding towns of Grosse Isle, Warren, Meadows, Rosser and Woodlands,” Boonstra said.

“The additions to the playground will provide an enriched environment for the community.”

To date, the parent advisory council has raised about $22,000 towards its $75,000 goal, including the contribution from the RM of Rosser and donations from local businesses including Prairie Roots Co-op, Leo’s Sales and Service Co. Ltd, Ampere Electric Co. Ltd, Prairie Gear, and Ocean Trailers.

The group continues to apply for grants, seek community support and fundraise for the project.

In addition, community members can show support by ordering flowers through the Glenlea spring flower campaign. To order online, visit <https://www.glenleagreenhouses.com/collections/fundraiser-2022-home-page> and reference “Rosser Elementary School.” Flowers will be available for pickup in May.

“Community members can get involved in a number of ways. Donations may be made to the Interlake School Division referencing the Rosser Elementary School Playground Project,” Boonstra added.

“We are also looking for volunteers to assist with supervised installation of the playground equipment and assistance with hauling landscaping materials this spring.”

The parent advisory council hopes to have all the funding in place to complete the project by the end of December.

Moderna’s COVID-19 vaccine approved for children aged 6 to 11

By Patricia Barrett

Health Canada has approved Moderna’s Spikevax COVID-19 vaccine for use in children aged 6 to 11.

Moderna joins Pfizer-BioNTech as the second vaccine authorized by Canada’s health agency for children in this age group.

Moderna submitted data to the agency after carrying out a trial to assess the effects of the vaccine in the six-to-11 age group.

“After a thorough and independent scientific review of the evidence, the department has determined that the benefits of this vaccine for children between 6 and 11 years of age outweigh the risks. Health Canada has authorized a primary two-dose regimen of 50 micrograms per dose to be administered four weeks apart. This is half of the 100 micrograms primary two-dose regimen authorized for

Stonewall girl ready to return to Thailand for second stem cell therapy

By Jennifer McFee

A Stonewall girl hopes to return to Thailand for her second round of stem cell therapy, and the community is once again raising funds to help support her journey.

Two years ago, young Amaya Dawson's spinal cord was damaged in a car accident, leaving her paralyzed from the chest down. In November, she underwent stem cell treatment at the Verita Neuro facility in Bangkok, Thailand, through a process that isn't available in Canada.

She will be eligible to return to Thailand for the same treatment every six months as long as there's progress, and plans are in place to take her back in June for another round of stem cells.

Amaya, who is nearly 10 years old, has noticed some changes since her first treatment. She's starting to have unintentional reflex spasms in her legs and she's also feeling sensations in her feet, thighs and stomach internally. At the same time, she's regaining some control of her personal functions, with the hopes of further improvements.

"She can't feel the touch but the inside of her foot will tingle. She knows something's there, but she doesn't know what it is," explained her mom, Alycia.

"They say it's a good sign that things are reconnecting or rejuvenating. Potentially, with more months or possibly more stem cells, she might actually get the sensation of feeling back — and this is the first step."

The cost of the hospital stay in Thailand is $32,000 Canadian, which includes the stem cell treatment, seven nights of accommodation for Amaya and Alycia and possibly another helper. For the first trip, Alycia's friend, who is also a registered nurse, accompanied them to help, particularly since many places weren't accessible for Amaya's wheelchair. The cost also covers all of Amaya's meals throughout her stay, and she will get physiotherapy twice per day and electrotherapy once per day.

On top of that, they will also need to buy plane tickets.

For Alycia, it's more important that Amaya regain some personal independence than regain the ability to walk.

"Amaya is still Amaya. Her attitude, her personality haven't changed one bit. She still has all her friends and her family. She is totally supported by the community, and the school is incredible with her," Alycia said.

"The fact of her not being able to walk was heartbreaking initially, but it's not such a huge thing anymore. It's just part of our life now, and now she has so much strength that she's able to sit up on her own. She has so much support and everybody still loves her, which is exactly what I want for her as her mom."

Fundraising for the upcoming Thailand trip is underway, and the community is once again stepping forward with support.

A bustling online garage sale is taking place through a Facebook group called "Amaya Takes Flight," which lists other fundraisers on an ongoing basis.

With spring now here, Alycia also plans to host another plant sale, likely within the next month.

"They say the second round of stem cells is when you see the most results, so we are grateful for every dollar because it all adds up," Alycia said.

"If it wasn't for all of the people that did the fundraisers last year and the people that participated, we wouldn't have gone to Thailand the first time. I'm trying to work my butt off to put in my own money, and the support of everyone else would be amazing."

'Spruce Up Your Story' accepting applications for funding

By Ty Dilello

Red River Mutual's Spruce Up Your Story program is back for a third year in a row, providing funding opportunities to help restore well-worn and well-loved community spaces across Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

This year, Spruce Up Your Story will be providing up to $25,000 in cash to each project selected, with $150,000 in total to award to communities across the Prairies.

On top of the monetary gift, the winners will also have access to additional volunteer hours from a crew of staff members from Red River Mutual and their local brokerage to help complete the project, if and when it is safe to do so.

"Leading into 2020, we reflected on our community involvement and wondered how we could make an even greater and more direct impact," said Kailynn Newediuk of Red River Mutual. "After some research and self-reflection, we started the Spruce

Up Your Story community sponsorship initiative.

"Our purpose as a company is to be a positive force in the lives of our customers and communities, and through Spruce Up Your Story, we feel we are further able to connect with people and support them beyond their insurance needs. We value our customers and the people in our communities like family. Spruce Up Your Story allows us to learn more about who they are and how we can protect their stories through the spaces that bring them together."

Last year, 10 winners were selected based on community use, sustainability, an opportunity for volunteerism, and a link to a brokerage that partners with Red River Mutual. The funding they received was put towards sprucing up the trails, parks, halls and baseball diamonds that bring their communities together. Project submissions are open until May 31 at SpruceUpYourStory.com.

Roussin delivers final regular COVID-19 briefing

By Ashleigh Viveiros

Manitoba's top doc held his final regularly scheduled COVID-19 briefing last week.

Coming one day after the last of the province's public health orders expired, chief provincial public health officer Dr. Brent Roussin emphasized at a virtual news conference March 16 that Manitoba is transitioning into the next phase of the pandemic — learning to live with the virus.

"We're certainly at a different place in this pandemic," he said. "We've been able to change our approach from strict public health measures to public health recommendations. That guidance is now available online to help support people in their own decision making to assess their level of risk when it comes to things like mask wearing, physical distancing and how many people they're comfortable with gathering."

The past two years have been filled with loss and divisiveness, Roussin observed, and it's time to move forward.

"We know that COVID-19 will very likely be part of our lives for years to come, so we can't wait for COVID-19 to be gone before we start our journey of healing."

Roussin called on Manitobans for understanding and compassion.

"We may not have agreed on the best approach on public health measures. ... We may not all agree on the timing of the loosening of the restrictions, but I'm sure we can all agree that all Manitobans have been faced with tremendous challenges and difficulties during these last two years.

"We see businesses now, some choosing to keep the proof of vaccine; others leaving that in the past. Some people will continue to wear masks; others will give that up. For many, these choices aren't easy. But we sure can make it easier on each other if we show some respect, kindness, compassion for other people's decision as we navigate this transition period."

Even with restrictions gone, modeling suggests Manitoba will continue to see a downward trend overall in COVID-19 hospitalizations, Roussin said.

On Monday, the province's online COVID-19 dashboard had 388 people in hospital with the virus (down 26 from the Monday before) and 22 in ICU (up two). The death toll was at 1,731.

Manitoba has already begun shutting down its pandemic infrastructure. Numerous testing sites were set to close this week and many vaccination supersites — including the one in Morden — are already closed, with more to follow in the weeks ahead. Roussin said embedded in these closure plans are plans to reopen testing and vaccination services again if needed in the future.

Vaccines will continue to be offered through clinics, pharmacies and at the supersite at the RBC Convention Centre in Winnipeg, which will remain open for now.

Health officials will continue to actively monitor COVID-19 indicators here in Manitoba, nationally and around the world, Roussin stressed.

"This is the last formal COVID-19 briefing, but I can assure Manitobans that our work on this virus is not stopping at this point."

We are thankful for our freedom

I subscribe to the several weekly editions of small town papers.

Since moving to Stonewall in April 2020, I have enjoyed your newspaper. There is always lots of what's happening and coming events.

I particularly enjoyed the article "A Lenten Journey" by Rev. Barry Schoonbaert published in the March 10 issue of the Tribune.

It is a well-written and thoughtful article about our freedoms, about the choices we make and how they may infringe on someone else's rights.

It makes me think about several things happening around the world. I think of the "Freedom Convoys" and what is happening in Ukraine!

What "freedom" we truly enjoy in our democratic country of Canada and how much we have to be thankful for!!

- Yours truly,
Karen McMechan

How I'm praying for Ukraine

I've been really struggling with what's happening in Ukraine. It's difficult watching videos of the constant assault and bombardment by the Russian army on those poor defenceless folk. Seeing hospitals being shelled and babies in ICUs being killed horrifies me. Watching as hundreds of thousands of people flee is heartbreaking.

As someone of Ukrainian descent, it is particularly difficult for me: both sets of my grandparents immigrated to Canada just over 100 years ago. I was thinking, had they not, I today would be in the midst of all that conflict. That, in turn, leads me to be very thankful and also to be full of prayer for my "home and native land," as it were.

So here is how I have been praying for the conflict in Ukraine. Obviously, I have been praying for the war to end. We are commanded in God's word to pray for peace and particularly for world leaders: "I urge, then, first of all, that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone—for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness" (1 Timothy 2:1-2).

One of my prayers has been for Russian president, Vladimir Putin, the man chiefly responsible for this unprovoked attack on Ukraine. I am praying that God would convict him of his immense sin and bring him to his knees in repentance. I have asked God to transform him from inside out and make him a born again person. Then, as such, my request has been to have Putin go on television and publicly announce his decision to accept Jesus as his personal Saviour. In that, I want him to admit that he has sinned greatly against both God and the Ukrainian people and to ask for forgiveness. He would then call off the war and proceed to a peaceful resolution.

I can't think of many things that would bring, in my opinion, more glory and honour to God than Vladimir Putin's salvation and consequent public declaration of faith in Christ.

And so I ask.

Dr. Henry A. Ozirney,
Interim Pastor,
New Life Church,
Teulon MB.

COVID-19 testing and vaccination sites winding down in Interlake-Eastern RHA

Submitted by Interlake-Eastern RHA

Interlake-Eastern RHA's COVID-19 testing sites in Powerview-Pine Falls and Eriksdale are now closed. The Selkirk COVID-19 testing site at the old hospital located at 100 Easton Dr. remains open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday to Saturday. In addition, there are five sites in Winnipeg that still offer testing service:

- Ma Mawi Wi Chi Itata Centre Testing Site (445 King St.)
- Walk-in Clinic Garrick Centre (330 Garry St.)
- Testing Centre (604 St. Mary's Rd.)
- Dakota Medical Centre (17-845 Dakota St.)
- Minor Illness and Injury Clinic Drive-Thru Testing Site (2055 Notre Dame Ave.)

PCR tests will continue to be available at these sites to eligible people, which includes pre-operative patients and those at high risk for severe outcomes from COVID-19 who may be eligible for treatment. For up-to-date information about hours and locations, as well as information on rapid antigen tests, visit: www.manitoba.ca/covid19/testing.

Rapid antigen tests are available for all Manitobans for use if they become symptomatic in the future. Tests can be accessed free of charge through a variety of locations, including provincial testing sites and retail establishments and Winnipeg public libraries, among others. Please visit one of the following retail locations to pick up tests (one five-test pack per person or two per household). Note: stock may be delayed to some retailers as distribution continues.

- Co-ops (42 locations)
- Loblaw/Shoppers Drug Mart (59 locations)
- London Drugs (1 location)

- Northern, NorthMart and Solo (29 Locations)
- Rexall (18 locations)
- Save On Foods (5 locations)
- Safeway, Sobeys and IGA (40 locations)
- Walmart (16 locations)

Last day of operation for Selkirk's COVID-19 vaccination site is March 26.

The last day of operation for Selkirk's COVID-19 vaccination site at 100 Easton Dr. will be March 26 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Vaccines continue to be available at medical clinics and pharmacies throughout the province. The vaccine site at RBC Convention Centre in Winnipeg will remain open to offer vaccines. For additional updates on vaccine locations and hours or to use the vaccine finder, visit www.manitoba.ca/vaccine.

Co-ops come together to support aid for Ukraine

By Nicole Brownlee

A Red River Co-op employee who immigrated from Dnipro, Ukraine, to Winnipeg in 2015 has united Co-op locations across the province to collect over two tonnes of medical and tactical supplies for people in Ukraine.

"Several days after the war started, I was frantic. I was thinking, 'What can I do to help Ukraine? What do I do? Why am I here in Canada? Why am I not there?'" said Anna Karpenko.

Many of Karpenko's family members were in Kyiv when Russia invaded the country in late February. They were able to evacuate Ukraine's capital city safely and fled to Dnipro in central Ukraine.

"Dnipro is relatively safe for now, and I hope it stays that way," said Karpenko.

In late February, Karpenko found a Canadian freight company based in Toronto that could send humanitarian packages to Poland, which could be picked up by truck and transported to Ukraine.

Grateful for an outlet to help Ukrainians, Karpenko began organizing items to send to Toronto and shared the news on Facebook.

"In a day, we had so many things donated and brought over that I had to do a call out for volunteers for packaging and wrapping."

Red River Co-op covered the $6,000 cost of sending the first shipment from Manitoba to Toronto by truck.

The shipment of medical supplies, like tourniquets, gauze and bandages, and tactical gear, like elbow and knee pads, flashlights and walkie-talkies, reached Ukraine with the help of Come Back Alive, a Ukrainian organization that supports the Armed Forces of Ukraine.

The cost of sending the second shipment to Toronto was covered by 12 Co-op locations across Manitoba, including Moosehorn, Ukrainian Farmers, Homestead, Prairie Roots, Dauphin, Interlake, Beausejour, Domain, Twin Valley, Clearview, Pembina, Sun Valley and Neepawa-Gladstone. The second shipment with around two tonnes of supplies reached Toronto and is being prepared to send to Poland.

"Co-ops were built to support community and our thoughts are with the people of Ukraine during this time," said Adrian Shabaga of Moosehorn Co-op.

"It really is overwhelming. I never thought that the response and the support would be so immense," said Karpenko.

The Ukrainian Farmers Co-op in Fisher Branch was one of the 12 Co-op locations to help Karpenko collect supplies and is now taking donations to support Ukrainian refugees coming to Canada.

"I think anytime the community finds somewhere they can donate, people are extraordinarily generous," said Kyle Yaciuk, owner of the Co-op.

The Co-op has also raised over $3,500 by selling homemade borscht.

Sherisse Danish led the project, using her baba's recipe, and with the help of volunteers Ronnie Dandeneau, Aurele Meilleur, Jim Danish, Anne Podaim and Yaciuk, Danish made over 64 pots of soup.

Ukrainian Farmers Co-op is also accepting supplies including bedding, toiletries and diapers on behalf of the Ukrainian National Foundation in Winnipeg. All monetary donations will be sent to the Ukrainian Canadian Congress in Winnipeg and the Canadian Red Cross.

Stonewall council news in brief

By Jennifer McFee

Selkirk-Interlake-Eastman MP James Bezan provided some practical suggestions for how local residents can help in relation to the Ukraine crisis.

Bezan has been meeting with different municipal councils across the riding, and he was a delegation at the March 16 Stonewall council meeting.

"I'm asking for a number of things in relation to the crisis in Ukraine. I know that everybody wants to help," he told the Tribune.

"A lot of people are making donations to the Red Cross, to Canada-Ukraine Foundation and other organizations that are trying put together humanitarian relief."

At the same time, Bezan said many people want to help with the refugees who will be arriving in Manitoba.

"We need to do a number of things. Let's identify excess housing stock where we can possibly put some of these families up. A lot of people have secondary residences or bed and breakfasts or Airbnbs, and those can be used to house refugees. Also, let's see if there are any job opportunities because they're going to be allowed to work," he said.

"And let's organize some language teaching as well because some of them are going to want to upgrade their English language skills and some of them are not going to have any English. We also need to identify

Annual firefighters ball to return to Teulon April 9

By Nicole Brownlee

A dearly missed Teulon and Rockwood tradition is returning to the communities on April 9.

The Teulon Rockwood Firefighters Annual Ball is back after a two-year break because of public health restrictions, with 400 tickets available.

"We had people asking us before Christmas when we would start to sell tickets," said Ryan Trombo, fire chief of the Teulon Rockwood fire department.

"This event is our major fundraiser."

The fire department will raise money to buy additional equipment and training material through ticket sales for the event and a silent auction.

"In past years, when we were holding it, tickets were sold out between one and two weeks," said Trombo.

The department has already received monetary and prize donations like slow cookers and burn pits from local businesses and community members.

Earlier this year, the fire department also received a generous $15,000 donation from Glen and Maureen Kletke that enabled the department to buy a Holmatro Combi Extrication tool.

"We have a fantastic budget to work with for the fire department," said Trombo.

"But like everything with emergency services ... you can't just throw $30,000 worth of extrication tools into a budget."

The extrication tool is battery-operated, which makes it easier for the firefighters to grab and go, enabling quicker extrication from vehicles. The tool can also cut and spread metal on vehicles.

Now that the department has two extrication tools, they can simultaneously cut posts on a vehicle and remove vehicle roofs quicker.

"We really marvel at the dedication of the members of the Teulon Rockwood fire department," said Maureen.

"We're just so grateful for so many wonderful people donating their time."

The Kletkes were born and raised in Teulon and plan to continue their tradition of attending the firefighters' ball.

"We always attend," said Maureen.

Local band, The Biivvers, will also perform at the event and entertain guests throughout the night.

The ball will be held at the Teulon Rockwood Centennial Hall. Cocktails will start at 6 p.m., and a turkey dinner, with turkeys supplied by Charison's Turkey Hatchery, will be served people who have Ukrainian language skills in our communities to help with those that don't speak English. If you want to help, this is how you can help."

In other council news:

- Communities in Bloom co-chairs Asta Johannesson and Shelley Proven shared their enthusiasm about Stonewall's entry in the national level of the competition this year.

"We are in a new category because we now have a population of over 5,000," Johannesson told the Tribune, adding that the memory garden will be a main focus.

The Canadian Garden Council has declared 2022 as the Year of the Garden, and the Town of Stonewall has joined other communities to proclaim it.

This year, gardeners are encouraged to plant red in honour of front-line workers who lost their lives during the pandemic.

"This year we're also really going to focus on trying to find some new members. We will probably have a meeting in April, and we hope to encourage lots of people to come out and see what Communities in Bloom is all about," Johannesson added.

"We'll also be communicating with other local groups because Communities in Bloom is about enhancing the green space for the whole community. It's not just about flowers — it's way more than that."

- Council conditionally passed second reading of a zoning bylaw amendment that will allow for an expansion of Interlake Salvage and Recycling on the opposite side of a strip of land owned by the Town of Stonewall. Access to the property will be from a proposed extension of Limestone Drive.

- Council passed second and third readings of a bylaw to establish rule and procedures for the use of municipal resources during the 42-day period before a general election or by-election.

- Council passed first reading of a bylaw to set the types, rates and conditions of payments to be made or on behalf of members of council and council committees, boards and other bodies.

- The Town of Stonewall conditionally approved a $30,000 contribution to the Quarry Ridge Motorsport Group. Conditions include having a formal agreement in place for the site of the motorsport track, submitting a formal financial plan to the town, and confirming that all funds needed to develop the track have been committed or is in possession of Quarry Ridge Motorsport Group.

- The Town of Stonewall will purchase a sponsorship package for the 2022 National Women's Invitational Baseball Championship, which will be held in Stonewall.

- The Town of Stonewall has repealed its vaccination policy for the general public, which requires all members of the public attending council meetings to be vaccinated against COVID-19. However, face masks or coverings are recommended to enter all town facilities.
- Council approved policy updates and amendments for Quarry Park recreation and cultural services. Rates increased slightly for summer 2022.
- Council adopted a revised accessibility plan in keeping with the Accessibility for Manitobans Act.
- The Mayor and CAO will sign a development agreement for Buildguru Custom Homes related to construction of a townhouse.

Warren preschoolers offered a new day program

By Nicole Brownlee

Jennifer Paulson took action when she realized there were very few preschool program options in her community.

"When I was off with my son in 2018, there was nothing then either, so I thought, well, someone's got to start it," said Paulson.

Now a mother of two, Paulson is starting a preschool program at the Warren Memorial Hall to allow parents and young children to get out of the house for an hour every week to socialize and play games.

"With COVID, people haven't been able to get together," said Paulson.

"I thought (this would) be an opportunity for the little ones and their parents to finally meet people in the community."

On Tuesdays, Paulson plans to guide children aged three to five through exercises, songs and activities while parents of younger children can socialize and play games with toys and supplies provided by Paulson and the Rosser Woodlands Recreation Commission.

"There's been quite the interest in the group," she said.

Around 15 families have signed up for the program through the Warren Tots Facebook page Paulson created to gauge the community's opinion.

This program could also make the transition into kindergarten easier for children who haven't had the opportunity to meet and interact with other children during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"I've noticed with my own son it's been hard for him being around other kids and knowing how to play with other kids because we haven't had the chance to do that."

Paulson has been on maternity leave since her daughter Olivia was born in July 2021 and will return to teaching elementary students in September.

"I'm a teacher, so this gives me a chance to do what I love while I'm off on maternity leave."

Paulson said she wants the program to continue after she goes back to work at a school in Transcona and won't be able to lead the group.

"I'm hoping to get it started, and then hopefully it'll blossom from there, and someone else will take it over, and it can continue to grow."

The program is planned to start on April 5. Families will be charged a $3 drop-in fee to cover the cost of renting the hall and supplying snacks and activities. Families from Warren, Woodlands, Rosser, Marquette and Grosse Isle are welcome to join.

For more information about Paulson's preschool program, visit the Warren Tots Facebook page.

Flooding conditions improve a bit in March outlook

By Ashleigh Viveiros

Things are looking a little better when it comes to potential flooding along the Red River this spring.

In its second 2022 spring flood outlook last week, Manitoba's Hydrologic Forecast Centre put the worst-case scenario for spring flooding at the levels seen along the Red in 2011.

That high risk of flooding is with unfavourable weather conditions — lots of rain or snow over the next few weeks.

With favourable conditions, the risk of flooding is still considered major, though more like the peak levels seen in 2019 from Emerson to the Red River Floodway Inlet.

"Normal" weather over the coming weeks would put the expected flooding levels close to that seen in 2020.

Red River tributaries, including the Roseau, Rat and Pembina rivers, are also at a high risk of moderate to major flooding, depending on what the next few weeks of weather brings us.

Due to below-normal soil moisture at freeze-up and normal to well above normal winter precipitation, there is high risk of moderate flooding in the Assiniboine River and its tributaries, including Souris River basin, and in the eastern region, including the Whiteshell Lakes area, the report notes.

The risk of spring flooding is low for Interlake and northern Manitoba regions. The risk of flooding for most Manitoba lakes is also low.

The province notes the predicted peak levels of flooding across Manitoba right now are expected to remain below the dikes and community flood protection levels, which have been raised significantly since the Flood of the Century in 1997.

"The magnitude of the spring runoff on Manitoba's rivers is still very dependent on weather conditions from now till the spring melt and during the spring melt period," the report stresses. "A late thaw and spring rainstorms could result in a rapid snow melt that increases overland flooding and the flows on tributary streams and the larger rivers.

"A single precipitation event similar to the rainstorm that occurred in the summer of 2014 could change the flood outlook significantly."

The complete March Outlook Report can be found at www.gov.mb.ca/mit/floodinfo/pdf/2022/march_2022_flood_outlook_report.pdf.

Young and old returning to social life through arts programming

By Nicole Brownlee

The Green Acres Art Centre has several new programs on deck for the upcoming year, including expanding opportunities for seniors to socialize and families to play together.

The New Horizons Drop-in Centre committed around $25,000 to GAAC to invest in activities for seniors.

GAAC plans to use the grant money to add a disc golf course to the Teulon-Rockwood Green Acres Park, floor shuffleboard and indoor curling.

"There are lots of seniors here, and there's really not a lot for them to do in Teulon," said Lana Knorr, GAAC's president.

In 2014, 29 per cent of Teulon's population was 65 years old or older, and the median age for the town was 50 years old.

Knorr said the grant from The New Horizons helps welcome the community back together.

"They want wellness and to bring people together, especially with the pandemic," said Knorr.

Cards, board games and crafts for seniors will also be available.

"The ultimate goal is to have it be an opportunity to socialize and have other activities."

In addition to planning summer camps, GAAC is reviewing several programs for parents and preschool-age children that explore learning together through dance, theatre, crafts and play throughout the year.

"It's an opportunity for parents to get out of the house with their child," said Knorr.

"These little ones have been at home. They really need some social interaction to get ready for school. It's a huge adjustment."

Heather McDermid will lead the free Growing Green program for parents and children between one and six years old in Teulon at Green Acres Park and Stonewall at Stonewall Quarry Park.

The outdoor program uses nature as a learning tool, said McDermid.

"We encourage families to go outside and explore. Families can gain an appreciation for the world around them, and it fosters environmental awareness and compassion."

The program is also an opportunity for parents to meet other families in the community.

Elisa Hunt recently joined the GAAC team and will lead art programs in the spring.

The popular program Come Dance with Me, led by dance instructors Alycia Campbell and Elena Modrzejewski, is returning to GAAC. The free parent and child program is for children up to age three and runs for up to six weeks.

"This gives (the children) a little bit of an introduction to dance," said Knorr.

"Some of the ones that did the Come Dance with Me in the summer joined our Little Stars Program in the fall."

The Inspire, Imagine and Create program for children between two and four years old is continuing this year led by Arthur Holroyd.

Maegan Trach is leading the Little Learners program for children between three and five years old to practise literacy and numeracy through music and hands-on activities before entering kindergarten.

To learn more about when programs will be offered, visit greenacresartcentre.ca or the Gaac Teulon Facebook page.

Stonewall RCMP arrest male for break-in

Staff

Stonewall RCMP responded to a break and enter to a business on Road 78 North in the RM of Rockwood on March 16 at approximately 7 a.m.

The surveillance video showed that the break-in occurred around midnight. A pickup truck and front-end loader were stolen. The front-end loader was located down the road from the business, along with a damaged side-by-side.

The pickup truck was still on the property but was stuck in the snow in a gravel pit. When officers approached the truck, they noticed it was running and there was a male who appeared to be sleeping inside. The male was arrested without incident.

A 22-year-old male from the RM of Rockwood is facing charges of break and enter, possession of property obtained by crime, and possession of break-in instruments. He was released from custody and is scheduled to appear in court on June 20.

Stonewall RCMP continue to investigate. If you have information, please call Stonewall RCMP at 204-467-5015.

Five surprising facts about dogs you probably didn't know

He may be man's best friend, but how much do you really know about your pup? Here are five amazing facts about dogs you probably didn't realize.

1. Extra eyelids: in addition to top and bottom eyelids, dogs have another in the corner of their eye that acts like a windshield wiper to clean and moisturize the cornea.

2. Feeble taste: dogs gain most information about their food from the way it smells, not the way it tastes. They only have 1,700 taste buds on their tongues compared to our 9,000.

3. Instinctive sleeping: when your dog curls into a ball to sleep, it's not just adorable, it's also an instinctive response to the need to stay warm and to protect their abdomen and organs from predators.

4. Amazing noses: not only is their sense of smell 10,000 times stronger than ours, every dog's nose print is as distinctive as a human fingerprint.

5. Remarkable ears: each dog ear has 18 muscles that enable it to turn, tilt, raise, lower and move, thereby allowing Fido to hear far-away sounds — up to four times as far as a normal human ear can detect! Dogs can also hear high-frequency pitches humans can't detect. Not only are dogs loving and loyal companions, but they're also fascinating animals with unique characteristics and abilities.

Animals to benefit from Ethan Boyer legacy fund

By Jennifer McFee

The memory of a much-loved local teen lives on — and so does his great love of animals.

Ethan Boyer lost his life in a traffic crash at Brady Road at the young age of 19 in October 2019. Now his mom Sue, dad Dana and brother Reid have set up a legacy fund in Ethan's honour to benefit a cause that was close to his heart.

The Ethan Boyer Memorial Fund — Tin for the Critter Bin, set up through the Interlake Community Foundation, is designed to provide an annual grant to one or more pet charities chosen by his family.

The idea came to Sue as a result of a similar fund set up in honour of McKenna Riley, a young local woman who died in 2020 at the age of 20. She got a pamphlet in the mail explaining how the Interlake Community Foundation pools gifts in a capital fund that remains in perpetuity. The income generated is then distributed as grants to registered charities.

"Dana and I had a conversation that maybe we should do something like that for Ethan because it would be nice to keep his memory going hopefully long after we pass. It would also be a way for people who want to donate financially to contribute to Ethan's memorial fund. From there, we disburse to different animal charities," she said.

"Ethan loved animals. In his Grade 12 year at Stonewall Collegiate Institute, they went to Greece and there were a lot of animals running the streets. He'd send us pictures, saying 'Mom, Dad, look at this cat! Look at this dog! I want to bring them home.'"

Ethan also loved animals closer to the family's home near Balmoral, including his own dog Thanos.

"He said Thanos was the best dog we ever had. He was always and forever picking up strays. We would bring them home and feed them at the side of the ditch because we live in the country," Sue said.

"He loved animals more than he loved people because animals love you unconditionally and they're always there when you're lonely or sad. He loved them a lot, and we had quite a few animals in our house."

Their pooch Thanos, whose name reflects Ethan's love for the Marvel universe, also helped the family cope during difficult moments.

"After Ethan's crash, there were days that were dark. As Sue says, there were days when we wanted to just curl up in the corner and cry — but we had to walk the dogs. They sensed something was up and they knew Ethan wasn't around, but they had to be walked several times a day," Dana said.

"They sure got walked a lot because those walks are very therapeutic. You can say things to the dogs and to the

KAP calls for immediate back-to-work legislation

Submitted by KAP

Keystone Agricultural Producers (KAP) calls upon the federal government to introduce back-to-work legislation so that the current CP rail work stoppage ends immediately.

Additionally, immediate and co-operative action by all parties needs to be taken.

“The work stoppage will exacerbate an already difficult situation. A work stoppage for any length of time means lost shipping opportunities that will never be recovered. The current global supply chain crisis has people around the world very concerned about their food and energy supply,” said Bill Campbell, president, Keystone Agricultural Producers.

Rail service for the agricultural value chain is critical to meeting demand for our domestic and export customers. The livelihoods of Canadian farmers, and the entire value chain, depend on Canada’s ability to deliver agricultural product efficiently and on time. Past service disruptions have caused significant damage to Canada’s reputation as a reliable supplier.

“Delays in fulfilling contracts have also impacted the reputation of the Canadian brand with our customers,” added Campbell. “Reliability is a key component of the Canadian brand. Shortfalls this year, and in the past such as 2013-14, will resonate with customers for years to come.”

There is currently a backlog of grain on farms that was expected to have been delivered to export customers. Additionally, there are shortages of dried distillers’ grain, soybean meal, fertilizer and feed that are needed urgently and require rail transport.

Additionally, fertilizer, which is desperately required by producers in the spring, must be brought up from the United States into Canada and needs to be distributed throughout supply networks over the next month. Canadian Pacific Railway plays a major part of this operation.

“The agricultural value chain has been advocating for some time that rail service be deemed an essential service that would prevent future work stoppages and secure Canada’s supply chain,” concluded Campbell.

people 12 years of age and older,” said the agency in a March 17 statement. “The clinical trial showed that the immune response in children 6 to 11 years of age was comparable to the immune response in people 18 to 25 years of age, supporting the vaccine efficacy in this younger age group.”

It added that no “serious” adverse events were observed during the trial.

Moderna said its mRNA vaccine was found to be “generally well tolerated” in a KidCOVE study it carried out to evaluate safety, tolerability and effectiveness. Over 400 children in Canada took part in the study, which had over 4,000 child participants.

“Health Canada was the first regulator to fully approve our COVID-19 vaccine, and we are pleased they have taken this important step to expand this authorization to children aged 6 to 11 years,” said Moderna chief executive officer Stephane Bancel in a March 17 statement.

On the same day, Moderna announced it had asked the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for approval to offer a fourth dose — an additional booster dose — of its vaccine to adults aged 18 and older.

Research has shown that the vaccine’s protection wanes within months of receiving a third dose. A similar loss of protection against COVID was also found with Pfizer’s mRNA vaccine.

Moderna’s vaccine carries an increased risk of myocarditis and pericarditis, particularly in males 18 to 24 years of age, the company advises.

Health Canada authorized Moderna’s vaccine for adults in December 2020 and for children aged 12 to 17 in August 2021.

Moderna is working on an omicron-specific vaccine booster and is in the process of carrying out research with participants.

“Our goal has been to remain ahead of the virus and we are committed to generating and sharing data with public health authorities as they prepare for the fall booster season,” said Bancel in a March 10 statement.

bush and to each other that you normally don’t say when you’re sitting together at a table.”

Similarly, the legacy fund is another way for the family to seek solace in the situation.

“I know Ethan is with us and I’m hoping he’s so happy that we’re doing this in his honour,” Sue said.

“It helps us too. It’s good for the soul for us to continue.”

The family also plans to continue organizing a “Tin for the Critter Bin” donation drive each October as a way to collect pet food and other items needed by animal rescues. Last year, they collected about 10 truckloads of donated pet items.

Interlake Community Foundation board chair Bob Beck shared his sentiments about the new fund in Ethan’s honour.

“The loss of a community member is always hard and especially when we lose our youth,” Beck said.

“My son played hockey with both Ethan and his brother Reid. The shock of this tragedy was felt within the entire community and we are honoured to be able to help the family with the establishment of this fund.”

Hog sector making strides for small-town Manitoba

Over 14,000 skilled Manitobans depend on the hog sector for their livelihood, including the compassionate people who take care of the pigs in the barns. Each hog sector job helps sustain up to five jobs in related sectors. From general labourers to highly trained professionals, at the heart of it all is a commitment to ongoing education and training.

Over 30 new barns and expansions have been completed since 2017, providing opportunities for more Manitobans to become involved in raising and producing pork. Every dollar created by the hog sector generates $2.75 in additional economic activity, and the hog sector contributes $1.7 billion to the provincial economy every year.

The hog sector is a key contributor to the provincial economy, helping communities thrive and positioning Manitoba as a leader in providing high-quality protein to a growing global market.

Multicoloured flowers like a vinok, a traditional Ukrainian flower crown, line the bench Robert Unik carved honouring Ukrainians.

Vibrant orange and yellow pysanky, Ukrainian Easter eggs, join the bench's legs and arms, and clean white cloth with red embroidery on its edges covers the seat inscribed with a clear message written in Ukrainian, "Peace for Ukraine."

The county's blue and yellow flag appears to be shifting in the wind on a flagpole on the backrest of the bench and protected by sunflowers, Ukraine's national flower and a symbol of resistance since Russia invaded Ukraine in February.

"When I was carving, I got a lot of tears," said Unik, whose family is from Ukraine.

"Looking at it and seeing the babas and the mothers and the children while their husbands are going to fight the war."

Unik has been carving for almost four decades and is known for molding benches, cottage signs and pelicans out of wood.

Carving the intricate bench for three weeks was an outlet for Unik to express Ukrainian culture and pride while also creating the focus of a fundraiser.

Unik has partnered with the Selkirk Rotary Club to offer the bench as a raffle prize, with all proceeds going towards Ukrainian refugees settling in Manitoba.

Supporters will be able to buy raffle tickets for $20 in a few weeks and the final draw will be held on Canada Day.

Unik chose to dedicate the money raised from the bench's raffle to newcomers because of the outpouring of support for people living in Ukraine. He also wants to take his time raising as much money as he can.

"I don't want to donate (the bench) or just sell it because I can make a lot more money with a raffle," said Unik.

"I'm in no rush."

The raffle also gives people living in the Interlake the chance to donate and participate in welcoming Ukrainians into the province.

"I wanted something for us in this area," said Unik, who lives in Selkirk.

Robert Unik, a carver from Selkirk, is raffling off a hand-carved bench to raise money for Ukrainian refugees fleeing to Manitoba.

"This is how I donate."

Ticket buyers also have the chance to win other hand-carved sculptures by Unik like a pelican, owl, 1.5-metre-tall peacock and personalized signs.

Robert Unik will release more information about the bench raffle on Facebook in a few weeks as the fundraiser is finalized. To view Unik's work, visit the Our Unikque Creations Facebook page.

Aggies score rare 8-ender

They are rare, but an elusive curling eight-ender was scored during the University of Manitoba Aggies' annual bonspiel in Starbuck earlier this month. Local agriculture students involved in putting all eight rocks into the house to score in the first end of the game were skip Chad Thoresby, third Riley Buchanan, second Cameron Chorney and lead Carter Ives.

Mercs lead Hawks 3-0 in SEMHL final series

By Brian Bowman

The Warren Mercs are one win away from winning the South Eastern Manitoba Hockey League title.

Warren now leads the best-of-seven final series 3-0 after a 4-2 home win on Sunday evening.

"It definitely takes the pressure off," said Mercs' defenceman Chad Deprez. "Notre Dame is a team that applies pressure for all 60 minutes. It's nice to have a bit of a gap on them now."

Notre Dame's Connor Hamonic opened the game's scoring at 3:46 of the first period. But Mercs' forward Chase Faulkner replied with a huge power-play goal with just seven seconds remaining in the opening frame.

"They had recently got a goal called back on their power play which was the right call," Deprez said. "Going into the first intermission tied up was huge. Everybody could regroup. Heading into the second period tied up was massive for us."

After a scoreless second period, the Mercs' Braydon MacDonald scored at 12:02 of the third.

Warren Johnny Lazo continued his strong play in the series with a goal just over four minutes later. Twenty-two seconds after that, Trent Genyk made it 4-1 Mercs.

Hamonic closed out the scoring with a minute remaining in regulation time.

Lazo has been terrific in the final series with five goals and three assists.

"Johnny Lazo has taken it to another level and with his speed we were able to chip pucks behind their defence which we had struggled to do in the previous 45 minutes or so (in Game 3)," Deprez said. "He's stepped it up to the Johnny that we were expecting when he joined the team. He's really taken his game to a whole other level. A lot of us have grown up playing against him and knew what he could do against you. So, it's nice to have him on our side — he's been a game changer this whole series."

Hayden Dola was very good in goal for Warren, once again, making 46 saves.

Last Friday, Lazo scored three goals to lead Warren to a 5-2 road victory.

Lazo and Brock Couch scored to give the Mercs a 2-0 lead after 20 minutes. Couch had a strong game with four points on the night.

Lazo made it 3-0 at 5:11 of the second period but the Hawks' replied with goals from Griffen McLean and Brian Michiels midway in the middle frame.

The score stayed that way until Lazo scored at 19:11 of the third with Hawks' goaltender Marc Lesage pulled for an extra attacker.

Lesage continued to stay on the bench and Carson Ouellette iced the win with an empty-net goal with just eight seconds remaining.

Dola stopped 25 Notre Dame shots for the win.

The Mercs opened the series with a dominating 7-2 home win last Wednesday in Warren.

Warren, which held period leads of 4-1 and 5-2, received a goal and two-assist performance from Lazo while Ouellette, Eric Swanson and MacDonald each had a goal and an assist.

Kyle Luschinski, Mitch Hansen and Travis Bobbee also scored for the Mercs.

Hamonic and Richard Lesage replied for Notre Dame.

Dola made 33 saves for the win.

Game 4 of the series is set for Notre Dame on Thursday. If necessary, a Game 5 will be played in Warren on Friday and a Game 6 is slated for Sunday in Notre Dame. All three games start at 8 p.m.

TRIBUNE PHOTOS JO-ANNE PROCTER

The Warren Mercs' Foster Bytheway is stopped on this scoring opportunity against the Notre Dame Hawks in Game 1 of the SEMHL final series on March 16.

Mercs' forward Chase Faulkner scored a power-play goal late in the first period as Warren skated to a 4-2 home victory on Sunday. Warren now leads Notre Dame 3-0 in the SEMHL best-of-seven final series.

There was not a date for a series-deciding seventh game on the league website at press time.

Stonewall Jets in search of new head coach

By Brian Bowman

The Stonewall Jets are in search of a new head coach.

Longtime head coach Brock Couch has resigned his position behind the bench but will remain in the organization in another capacity.

"He has given us eight years and he's the most winningest coach in the Stonewall Jets' history," said Jets' president Dale McClintock last Saturday. "Brock's been part of the club for as long as I can remember."

Couch led the Jets to a Manitoba

Major Junior Hockey League championship in 2016. He also played in the MMJHL for Stonewall for four seasons.

But this past season was a rough one for the Jets. Stonewall struggled as they finished the regular season with a 10-30-5 record to place ninth in the 10-team league.

The Jets were one of just two teams that did not make the playoffs.

"We've been in existence for 20 years and he's been a staple," McClintock said of Couch. "He doesn't plan on going anywhere. We just needed a fresh perspective and a change was necessary. It was mutually agreed upon and Brock is a classy guy."

Hawks' Season comes to the end

Staff

The female Hawks' season ended with a loss in the bronze-medal game at the U15 Female Rural AAA Provincials.

The Hawks played strong in the first two games, getting wins versus the Parkland Rangers 5-3 and Westman Wildcats 4-0. This put the Hawks into a semifinal game against Yellowhead and the Chiefs would prevail, upsetting the Hawks 4-1 in front of a huge crowd in Carman. The girls would look to rebound versus Parkland in the bronze-medal game. Down 3-1 late in the game, the Hawks fought back to force overtime. But the Rangers spoiled the Hawks' hopes with an overtime goal.

Brandon won the provincial gold with a 6-3 win over Yellowhead.

With a second-half season record of 15-3, the Hawks' coaches and players should still be very proud. The team improved, played some great hockey, and had many highlights throughout the year.

League champions

Cowan's first WHL shutout

TRIBUNE PHOTO WINNIPEG ICE

Warren's Dawson Cowan made 23 saves to lead the Winnipeg Ice to a 4-0 home win over the Calgary Hitmen in his Western Hockey League debut on March 15. In 14 games with the MJHL's Winnipeg Blues this season, Cowan had a 6-5 record and 3.40 goals-against average heading into last week's action.

Teulon, Warren compete at AA varsity basketball provincials

Staff

The Teulon Collegiate Saints finished with a 1-2 record at the MHSAA "AA" varsity boys' basketball provincials in Portage la Prairie.

Teulon was defeated 61-56 by the Westpark Royals on Friday evening.

The Saints had beaten the Major Pratt Trojans 53-40 earlier on Friday.

Teulon started the provincials with a 69-42 loss to the Carman Cougars last Thursday.

In varsity girls' "AA" provincial action in Portage la Prairie, the Warren Collegiate Wildcats lost 50-35 to the Margaret Barbour Spartans in a consolation semifinal on Friday.

Warren defeated Teulon 45-42 in overtime in a consolation quarter-final earlier on Friday.

The Wildcats opened play with a 61-42 loss to the Rosenort Redhawks on Thursday.

Teulon started the provincials with a 61-48 loss to the Hapnot Kopper Queens last Thursday.

Annual fundraising bonspiel to honour Colin Crockatt

TRIBUNE PHOTOS BY JEFF MEIER

Approximately 175 family and friends of the Argyle Curling Club gathered Saturday to honour Colin Crockatt, who lost his battle to cancer last year. Crockatt was a tireless volunteer who worked passionately to bring new life to the curling club and greater community. He not only organized fundraising events, bonspiels and suppers, he was at every event from beginning to end. Organizers plan to make the Colin Crockatt Classic an annual bonspiel. Pictured, left to right: Kyle Grandmont (organizer) with the winning team of Taras Derbowka, Kendra Derbowka, Garry Jahns, Derek McMahon and Travis Lawrence (organizer); the club honoured Colin by retiring his curling rock and having it framed and engraved with "Gave So Much Taken Too Soon"; Colin's parents Barb and Russ Crockatt, wife Pam and daughter Paige were on hand to accept the rock.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Pete Skihar
March 14, 2003

Dear Dad,
Today would have been your 85th birthday. I came here to "The Pasture" where your blood and tears live on in the earth and stars, to pay homage and reflect. I knew, as a child, that you would never live to be 85. You were never careless, but the work was what mattered and you gave your all, body and soul. There were numerous injuries over the years, close calls together with the ever present sore muscles, aches and pains who never left your side. I am not alone here, the shadow of the lonely windmill watches every nuance, hears every breath. It looms tall and aching, its bones brittle and broken, its limbs creaking, tired and straining, against the bleeding sky. It's true that cowboys never really leave a place where they've given their all, and all of themselves was taken. Even now, after all these years, I feel your heartbeat, like Buttermilk's hoof beats pummeling over the land. And in the wind, that somehow defies the trees and finds its way to me. I feel your strength and courage - strength and courage necessary to do this job and do it well. I can see you riding tall and proud, Buttermilk's head high and alert, waiting for your cue. The two of you, always one. The blue and wild sky, like your eyes, melts gently into the horizon. I know that not only were you a cowboy, but a man with innate knowledge and understanding of a life and style of life, an attitude married to a spirit of land, sky and heaven. But this life is no easy ride. Long hours in and out of the saddle, sacrificing your body, a year too dry, and worse a year too wet. Each haunted by their own hardships. The leaves are changing their colours now, reminding everyone that soon the chill in the air will hang so bitterly cold it will burn inside your nostrils, as you breath heavily from the strain of the work. The blistering chill holds joy though, that soon the work will be done for the fall. Round-up, with its endless hours and many perils, brings an end to the cycle of work for a cowboy, here at "The Pasture". Where the work was hardest, and almost killed you, there is triumph. The triumph from knowing that you did your best. From the birth of that first calf in spring to bringing the last cow to the corral in the fall, the wind at your face, boundless sky above, warmth of the horse under you, freedom to be a real part of this breathing earth - you are a real hero, my dear, sweet, perfect Dad. I knew from birth, that I was, what I always wanted to be - Pete Skihar's daughter. We were united spirits, bonded by love so strong, that not even death could break it.

OBITUARY

John (Jack) William Ashworth Vincent
Peacefully, on March 12, 2022 at the age of 87, John (Jack) William Ashworth Vincent passed away in his sleep, at home.

Our beloved father, grandfather, and great-grandfather will always be remembered by his three daughters Joanne, Susan, and Sherry-Lynn; grandchildren James, Justin, Darrel, Racheal, and Natasha; as well as his most cherished great-grandchildren Dareus, Sebastien, Allie, Avah, Blake, Summer, Lucas, Chael, Aurora, Destiney, Dawson Jack, Oak-Lynn and soon to be newest great-granddaughter.

Jack was born in Stony Mountain, as the youngest child to his parents Daisy and Alfred Vincent, with his siblings Edwin, Robert, Mary, Etola and Sam. Jack will be joining his family in the heavens above, along with his wife Kathleen Diane Vincent who he married in October of 1958.

Living his life on the family dairy farm, Jack took over the farm with his brother Sam creating Vincent Brothers Farm, with the help of many family members along the way. As a well known local curler in his prime, the love of the sport never faded over the years as he cheered on watching every game he could on the TV. That also included his love for hockey and watching every game that the Winnipeg Jets played, including their win, the night before his passing.

Jack enjoyed spending his later years discovering history and nature on road trip with his daughter Joanne, and Sherry, great-granddaughter Oak-Lynn, and of course Lena on his lap. When he wasn't watching sports on TV or out gallivanting, he loved spending time driving around the farm on his quad with the dogs or spending time teaching the perfect crokinole flick, telling stories and laughing with his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Jack will be deeply missed by all who loved him.

Our family would like to thank all the doctors and nurses at Stonewall, Grace and Eriksdale Hospitals for making him comfortable in his final days, as well as Stars Ambulance and all the home care workers that helped him smile along his journey.

A graveside service will be held on Thursday, March 24th at 11:00 a.m. at Christ Church Anglican Cemetery, Stony Mountain. Rev Colin MacIver will officiate.

In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still;
In our hearts we hold a place,
That only you can fill.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you didn't go alone;
A part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
-Lovingly remembered by Joan Trombo and family

Announcements

OBITUARY

Ian Richard Bowler
December 22, 1947 – February 22, 2022

With heavy hearts, we announce that Ian Bowler passed away on February 22, 2022 peacefully in Winnipeg at the tender age of 74. Ian is survived by his children, Richard, Carla, Daniel (Rachel), and Michael; grandchildren whom he extremely adored, Aurora, Michael, and Elena; as well as his wonderfully numerous friends at Mike Suka Place in Winnipeg.

Ian had many joys in life, and all of them included spending time with those he loved and enjoying doing just about anything with his family and friends.

Ian's family kindly requests that his valued friends and relatives take a few minutes to honor his memory by visiting his tribute page at EthicalDeathCare.com. A photo-biography, as well as memories and stories published by those who knew him, are available there.

A celebration of his life will be held at 2 p.m. on June 21, 2022, at 603 Wellington Crescent at Academy Road (Unitarian Church).

OBITUARY

Muriel Emily Boyer (Gardner)
March 25, 1923 – February 28, 2022

On the evening of February 28, just 25 days before her 99th Birthday, our Matriarch and shining star rejoined her beloved husband Albert (Chubby) and cherished grandson Ethan Boyer.

Muriel was born on Palm Sunday in Ninette, Mb to Matilda and Christopher Gardner, the eldest girl of a family of nine. In 1928 the family moved to Stonewall. After graduating high school, Mom was a phone operator in Stonewall.

Muriel married Chubby Boyer on Saturday, July 17, 1948. They moved to Winnipeg where she worked at The Bay until her children, Jack (John) and Jeanette were born. In 1957 they moved back to Stonewall to be with Matilda (Nanny) Gardner. Their son, Dana, was born in 1963. In 1967 our family moved to our own house on 2nd Street West in Stonewall.

Mom enjoyed knitting and sewed many outfits. She was also a 4-H Leader. Mom and Dad managed the local bowling alley for years and helped organize the Youth Bowling League and a bowling league for students with special abilities.

Muriel was baptized, confirmed and married at the Stonewall Anglican Church where she had attended Sunday School with her siblings. Later on, she enjoyed helping at Church Teas and teaching Sunday School.

Mom was an integral member for the Stonewall Legion Branch 52 Ladies Auxiliary for 62 years. She served as Secretary Treasurer for 30 years and became a Life Member in 1986. Mom was very proud of Dad's passion to aid and assist veterans and to help the community, where he served at various levels of the Legion Command. Mom and Dad travelled across Canada to various functions where they met numerous people who became lifelong friends. They also travelled for years to the Legion Sports Complex at the International Peace Gardens. Along with other Veterans and families, they assisted with many projects so that many students could enjoy the summer Legion Camps. Mom and Dad were both made Life Members of the International Peace Gardens.

Love of family and friends was first and foremost in Mom's life, beginning with her very close relationships with her mother and siblings. The "Boyer Clan" was no different and we were all blessed to be continually surrounded by amazing aunts, uncles and cousins; celebrating with love, laughter, music and singing.

After almost 50 years of a loving marriage, Dad passed away April 18, 1998. Mom carried on with her deep and strong faith, determined to be the strength of the family. She moved in Lions Manor in 2006, where her three sisters also resided and enjoyed making memories for the remainder of her life.

Mom constantly adored and supported her precious grandchildren, attending games, services and various events. Her grandchildren, in turn, enjoyed her quiet wisdom and her loving, patient ways. They experienced many years of her unconditional love and countless hugs, especially her chocolate chip cookies. Mom was very happy to expand the family and welcomed with open arms her four great-grandchildren whom she loved very dearly. When Ethan left us October 25, 2019, Grandma was heart broken yet continued to be a pillar of strength and faith to help the entire family.

Survived by children Jack (Carol), Jeanette (Barry) Sheasgreen and Dana (Sue); grandchildren Scott Sheasgreen, Garrett (Katarina) Sheasgreen, Lana (Cory) Moffatt and Reid Boyer; great-grandchildren Dylan, Drea, Nixon and Odin; loving sister Jeanette (Ron) Fraser; sisters-in-Law Enid Gardner, Gladys McManus, and Martha (Bob) Werry; loving family friend Lesley (Simon) Duggan and numerous nieces and nephews with whom she had many special connections.

Predeceased by her husband Chubby, grandson Ethan Boyer. Family Matilda and Christopher Gardner, Irvine, Florence (Albert) Hartle, Jack, Bruce, Ruth Flower, Ed, Ken (Bev) Gardner; in-laws Louis and Violet Boyer, Johnny (Chris) and Art (Doris) Boyer, Blanch (Bob) Thornington, Pearl Graham, Emily Mowbray and Bill Irwin.

Mom so enjoyed having niece Sandy visit and her contact with nephew Danny and his wife Sue. Mom truly treasured and was thankful for her friendship with Audrey Klimpke. Thank you to Rita Weare, Heidi Giebelhaus and Sue Grandmont, all of whom always brightened Mom's day. A very special thank you to the amazing Homecare Aides who provided great care and enriched Mom's life in the past few years. Mom was very grateful and cared for you all. Thank you to Michelle Loehmer for her constant care, guidance and support. To the nurses and doctors and the Healthcare Aides at Stonewall Hospital, our family thanks you for the care and comfort given in Mom's remaining days. Thank you to Roshelle and staff at Mackenzie Funeral Home for your help and guidance.

As Mom loved a friend and family gathering, her Celebration of Life will be held at the Stonewall Legion Hall, Hall, May 17th, 2022 at 11 a.m. Lunch will be served following the service. Afterwards, a private family burial will take place at Stonewall Cemetery.

In memory of Muriel and in lieu of flowers, donation can be made to Ethan Boyer Memorial Fund - Tin for the Critter Bin. Cheques made out and mailed to Interlake Community Foundation Inc P.O. BOX 1575, Stonewall, Mb R0C 2Z0. In memo of cheque put Ethan Boyer Memorial Fund or donations accepted online at www.interlakefoundation.ca
