Community gathers for Argyle Day celebrations

Staff

Community members and distinguished guests gathered at the Argyle Community Centre on June 3 for the annual Argyle Day celebration and the planting of a royal tree.

Shayne Campbell, president and executive director of Settlers, Rails and Trails museum, welcomed visitors to the event.

"The museum itself started 33 years ago, and in the last nine years, our museum has been responsible for 17 new exhibitions in Argyle, Teulon, Stonewall, Winnipeg and even at the Manitoba legislature seven times," he said.

"We have had four years of tremendous growth at the museum's 12-acre park property, where we have built roads, railway tracks, landscaping. We've had our buildings renovated. We planted native prairie trees and finally a lawn. We are quite excited about that. So today we celebrate the museum, we celebrate Argyle and we celebrate a fantastic brand new tree."

Lt.-Gov. Anita Neville shared greetings with the crowd on the hot, humid day.

"This truly is a small community

Lakeside MLA Ralph Eichler reflected on June 3 being a 'pretty special day' as it marked 20 years to the day since he was elected. Eichler is not seeking re-election this fall.

with a big heart. ... I'm delighted to be able to join with you here this afternoon," she said.

She expressed appreciation for the museum and the Argyle community.

"The commitment to community and the history here, it's quite overwhelming," Neville said.

"It's quite special and I'm sure there are other communities in Manitoba that have this kind of community spirit, but I have never encountered it to this extent. Your museum is small but mighty and has a far reach."

Selkirk-Interlake-Eastman MP James Bezan was unable to attend the event, but he sent a prepared speech.

"I welcome everyone to the official planting of the museum's royal tree to honour her majesty's legacy. Although we are saddened by Queen Elizabeth's passing, 2022 marked a historic anniversary of her majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Seventy years as head of the Commonwealth and Canada's head of state was a remarkable milestone," Bezan said in his message.

"Her majesty's sense of duty to Canada was both deeply held and demonstrated in her actions. This celebration could not have been successful without the continued support of the committee members and volunteers. You are to be commended for your hard work and dedication to our community."

Lakeside MLA Ralph Eichler brought greetings on behalf of the provincial government.

"Argyle is just one part of my constituency but, as you can see, it beats — it's heart beats," Eichler said. "It's really quite amazing. We are small, but we are mighty."

Argyle is located on the Prime Meridian, Campbell added before introducing Rockwood Reeve Wes Taplin and Woodlands Reeve Doug Oliver.

Taplin shared some of his own connections to the community.

Discover what's blooming in the tall grass prairie

Ruby Roe Tall Grass Prairie Day set for Saturday, June 17

By Annaliese Meier

Tall grass prairies are vital ecosystems that support a diverse range of flora and fauna. In an effort to promote conservation and education, REACT - Rockwood Environmental Action Community Taskforce is hosting the Ruby Roe Tall Grass Prairie Day on Saturday, June 17.

This year's event will begin with a free interactive educational guided tour through the natural habitat at 10 a.m., followed by a complimentary smokie lunch.

The Ruby Roe Tall Grass Prairie is located just west of Stonewall's health centre and has been designated as a nature preserve due to its unique ecological characteristics.

As part of their commitment to supporting local wildlife, REACT has purchased 50 milkweed plants from Prairie Flora to give away at this year's event. Milkweed is critical for the survival of monarch butterflies since they feed exclusively on its leaves during their larval stage. However, the decline in milkweed populations due to eradication efforts in agricultural areas and urban landscapes has contributed significantly to the dwindling numbers of monarchs today. By planting milkweeds, we can help reverse this trend while also supporting our local ecosystem and preserving tall grass prairie habitats for generations to come.

Prairie Flora, specializes in native prairie Manitoba wildflowers and grasses. Their retail outlet greenhouse is just north of Teulon on the west side of Highway 7 (one kilometre past junction #17).

Ruby Roe Tall Grass Prairie is a prime example of a tall grass prairie. Although it may appear as an overgrown field from afar, closer inspection reveals the presence of unique plant species that make this place stand out. These include Manitoba's provincial grass, big bluestem, along with New England aster, blazing star, prairie clover and western prairie fringed orchid.

"We preserve an area like this because tall grass prairie is the most biologically diverse and productive grassland in North America," said REACT's president Karl Daher.

"Genetic information contained in these rare plant communities is used by researchers to develop new crops and pharmaceuticals."

Nearly half of all of the medicines we use today are derived from a natural source. Perhaps a cure for an untreatable disease today may be found in a protected patch of big bluestem. Tall grass prairie is also a refuge for a variety of birds and insects. The

Walk for Miles raises funds for TCI's mental health supports

By Annaliese Meier

The Walk for Miles was a powerful demonstration of community support and support for mental health awareness.

On Saturday, May 27, Teulon Collegiate staff and students and members of the Fisher River Cree Nation came together to raise funds in remembrance of their student Miles, who succumbed to a mental health struggle in February 2023. The walk was also to bring awareness to mental health issues among the youth in schools and the community.

The event accepted pledges, sold hot dogs and had a water balloon throw, raising an impressive $3,500.

Greta Regnier, former student and friend of Miles, raised $1,500. She and Miles both struggled with mental health issues and she felt deeply connected to him.

"I know I cannot help Miles anymore, but if I could help my friends in honour of Miles, I knew I would do the most I possibly could," said Regnier.

But it wasn't just about raising funds — it was about coming together to honour Miles and show support for those struggling with mental health issues.

"We don't get many opportunities for connections with First Nations and this was a really positive experience, seeing people coming together for a common cause," said TCI staff member Kathy Simcoe.

It was a powerful reminder that events like these can bring different communities together in meaningful ways.

TCI staff Chelsea Meier said the funds raised this year will be used for a wellness committee including staff, administration, students and community representatives. The committee will decide the activities to put together in support of wellness. They will also be partnering with Green Acres Art Centre to extend teen wellness activities outside of school.

Organizers plan to make the Walk for Miles an annual event to help raise funds for the school and to support young people with their mental health struggles.

The dedicated group of organizers from the collegiate included Amy Friesen, James Squissato, Chelsea Meier, Kathy Simcoe, Teresa Melnychuk, Laura Manchulenko, Jennifer Chartrand, Gloria Kim, Ohaira Abacan, Ali Charison, Annika Kowalchuk, Desiree Chartrand, Keira Waldbauer, Mia Werth and Abby Skinner. Together, they made the Walk for Miles possible and plan on making it an annual event.

SOUTH INTERLAKE PLANNING

Planning to Build a Deck this Summer?

Keep the South Interlake Planning District (SIPD) in mind if you are planning to build a deck this summer. A Development and Building Permit is required for a deck that:

- Is two feet or higher from the ground; or
- Is attached to a building; or
- Has walls or a roof; or
- Is intended to support a structure such as a hot tub or pergola.

You do NOT need a permit for an unenclosed or detached deck less than two feet in height, or for an unenclosed attached deck of 50 ft² or less in floor area.

Permits help ensure that buildings and structures meet the Manitoba Building Code, which makes things safer for everyone! To assist with this, SIPD is pleased to announce reduced wait times for open deck permits in 2023! Please visit our website (www.sipd.ca) for current wait times.

If you are unsure whether your project requires a permit, or if you have any questions, please contact the SIPD office at 204-467-5587 and we'd be happy to assist you! More information is also available on our website: www.sipd.ca

Stonewall council: Pickleball gaining momentum

By Jennifer McFee

Pickleball continues to gain momentum as a popular sport, and a local committee hopes to see more courts available in Stonewall.

Tom Forbes spoke to Stonewall council during the June 7 meeting on behalf of the Stonewall Pickleball Courts Committee.

For a long-term goal, the committee encourages council to commit to including indoor pickleball courts in the design and construction of any future multi-sport facility.

In the short term, the committee would like council to designate a parcel of land in Quarry Park for the construction of eight outdoor pickleball courts. The committee members would also like council to allocate funding in the upcoming fiscal year to fully fund the construction of these eight outdoor courts in 2024.

Forbes noted that pickleball is the fastest growing sport in North America, including in Stonewall. The committee has received 68 letters of support for its proposal.

- Council accepted a quote for restoration work at the Stonewall War Memorial from Kevin Campbell Masonry & Stucco in the amount of $36,500 plus tax. It was the only quote submitted in response to the town's request for quotations. The town received a grant of up to $20,000 from Veterans Affairs Canada under the Commemorative Partnership Project. These funds will be used to support part of the cost to restore the Stonewall cenotaph, including repairs to steps, replacement of damaged stone, construction of fencing, labour and contingency funds.

- The Town of Stonewall is receiving a $25,000 Heritage Resources Conservation Grant from the provincial government towards the conservation of the Stonewall Dominion Post Office. The scope of work includes repairs to the roof access, drains, rear entry stairs and ramp and restoration of the decorative urns.

- The CAO will submit an expression of interest for the provincial government's ready-to-move childcare project on behalf of the town in an effort to secure a second daycare facility.

- The CAO will enact an electric service agreement with Manitoba Hydro to install 19 90W LED roadway lights along 4th Street East in Stonewall.

- Council accepted a quote from Freedom Fire Inc. in the amount of $3,515.51 plus tax for the fire suppression system Limestone Luke's Concession at Kinsmen Lake.

- During a special meeting on May 23, council passed second and third readings of a bylaw to establish a rate on all residential and institutional properties in town limits for waste and recyclable curbside collection, removal and disposal service for 2023 and 2024.

- Council also passed second and third readings of a bylaw regarding the 2023 tax levy.

- Council approved a recommendation from the WSP to accept a bid from Bituminiex Paving for $535,400.25 plus tax to provide services to extend sewer, water and the roadway of 2nd Avenue West to the new daycare site.

I couldn't be more proud to be a part of these festivities," Taplin said.

"Shane, you and your group are doing us unbelievable, making us proud with what you are doing and keeping the heritage of the area going. Keep up the good work and I appreciate everything you do."

Likewise, Oliver shared gratitude for being involved in the event.

"Our municipalities work together and, Shane, you are doing a marvellous job there at the museum. We at the municipality appreciate the work," he said.

"I'm not a stranger to Argyle. This is home for my mom, my granny and my cousins. Argyle is a great community and we come back often. This is a very momentous occasion."

After the speeches, the tree-planting ceremony began indoors, with plans for the tree to be transferred to the museum's 12-acre park, located north of Argyle on Meridian Road.

"The white spruce is Manitoba's official tree. This tree, along with seven others, will represent the contingent of royal trees on the museum's 12-acre park. We are pretty proud of this. There are seven trees already on the park property, one for every decade of Her late Majesty's reign," Campbell said. "And this one today will be planted officially by her honour. It is in recognition of King Charles III's coronation."

The museum is developing its 12 acres into a community park, which will also highlight the community of Balmoral.

"We aren't just heritage at the museum. We have recreational spaces, environmental, agricultural, educational spaces as well," Campbell said.

"Thank you to our sponsor and donors and in-kind contributors."

The white spruce tree could grow up to 72 feet after 100 years, he added.

After the lieutenant-governor planted the tree, Eichler presented Queen Elizabeth II volunteer medals to Charlie Amy and Suzanne Jones.

The afternoon ended with singing God Save the King, followed by refreshments. Brant-Argyle School also opened its doors for free tours earlier in the day.

Looking ahead, the museum's next exhibit, the Manitoba Brick and Block Collection, will open on July 15.

Thickening border

By Cam Dahl, general manager, Manitoba Pork Council

The international agricultural landscape is witnessing a troubling trend towards protectionism.

In past eras, protectionism was enabled through prohibitive tariffs that blocked trade. World Trade Organization (WTO) negotiations and bilateral trade agreements have largely eliminated tariffs from the protectionists' toolbox, but, as evidenced by recent events, there are other ways in which trade can be impeded.

California's Proposition 12 and proposed changes to Product of the U.S.A. labelling will "thicken" the border between Canada and the U.S., making trade more difficult and disrupting the integrated North American market. Some of the costs of these new measures will be carried by Canadian hog farmers and beef producers, who will both face price discounts, but they are not alone. At the other end of the supply chain, consumers will pay more at the grocery store, something no politician should want to be associated with, especially during a time of rampant food inflation.

How did we get to this point? Have you heard about the road that is paved with good intentions? The new regulatory measures did not start out as trade barriers or with the intent to punish consumers, but this is where we have landed. For example, Californians who voted for Proposition 12 likely did so because they were convinced by a few activists that modern regulations do not consider the welfare of animals being raised for meat consumption, despite the science to the contrary. The result is not improved animal welfare standards but arbitrary requirements for raising animals.

Proposition 12 is not consistent with the rest of North America, including other U.S. states, Canada and Mexico. This means that if farmers, processors and retailers want to supply the California market they will need to segregate products. If other states implement their own version of the regulations, as is expected, supply chains will face multiple segregations across the continent, rather than a harmonized North American market. Segregating production, processing and retail will reduce consumer choice, increase consumer prices and drive down farmers' returns.

Manitoba's hog farmers join with other pork organizations in calling on Canada to respond assertively to California's Proposition 12. All potential measures to stop the fragmentation of the North American market must be taken, including challenges through the WTO and the Canada-United States-Mexico Agreement.

We have successfully confronted protectionist U.S. regulations in the past. Canada and Mexico successfully challenged U.S. mandatory country of origin labeling at the WTO by demonstrating that the law was discriminatory against Canadian and Mexican hog and cattle farmers. However, the fight against discriminatory labelling is not over.

Today, a ham can be labelled "Product of the U.S.A." if the animal from which it is derived was processed in the U.S., even if it was born in Canada. This approach recognizes the consistency between Canadian and American food safety regulations and high standards for raising animals. But this is about to change. Proposed amendments to U.S. regulations would require meat that carries the label to be derived from animals exclusively born, raised and processed in the United States. Manitoba hog farmers have long-standing mutually beneficial relationships with our customers in Iowa, Minnesota and other states, but these relationships won't count if the U.S. processors and retailers demand that their suppliers adhere to the terms of the new label. Manitoba Pork holds that if this occurs, the new label will be voluntary in name only and the millions of dollars in damage caused by mandatory country of origin labelling will recur. I am concerned that the revised labelling regulations not only undermine the integrity of international trade but also mislead consumers who may mistakenly believe that imported pork is of lower quality.

The new challenges faced by meat exporters, including Manitoba hog farmers, are not isolated incidents but rather part of a broader trend of growing international protectionism in agriculture. Many countries are adopting protectionist policies that prioritize domestic industries at the expense of global trade partnerships. Canada needs to fight back.

There is a provincial election coming in Manitoba. Manitoba Pork calls upon all parties to prioritize the preservation of our international agriculture and agri-food markets when setting platform policies. Federal, provincial and territorial agriculture ministers are meeting in July. The issue of rising protectionism and the thickening of the Canada and U.S. border should be a top agenda item at this meeting.

It is vital that governments work together to dismantle barriers and promote an inclusive agricultural trading system. By doing so, we can ensure a prosperous future for farmers, while providing consumers with the quality products they deserve.

Task force to explore construction, renovation and demolition waste diversion

Submitted by Manitoba government

The Manitoba government, Winnipeg Metropolitan Region and the Manitoba Heavy Construction Association are launching a new Construction, Renovation and Demolition Task Force to find new ways to divert waste materials from Manitoba landfills, Environment and Climate Minister Kevin Klein announced last week.

"Construction, renovation and demolition waste is a major contributor to our landfills, so by diverting these materials through reuse and recycling, we help address the problem while protecting our environment," said Klein. "Diverting these materials from the waste stream leads to the better preservation of finite natural resources and reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, in addition to generating new economic opportunities."

In 2021, the Manitoba government's Waste Diversion and Recycling Framework Review identified that construction, renovation and demolition products are the second largest waste stream in Manitoba, representing an estimated 20 to 30 per cent of total waste.

"The construction industry has been recycling select materials from road or other projects, but there are numerous materials that could be recovered and reused from broader construction activities to promote resource management and environmental stewardship," said Chris Lorenc, president and CEO, Manitoba Heavy Construction Association.

The benefits also align with the Winnipeg Metropolitan Region's draft Plan 20-50, which will establish a regional approach supporting waste minimization, diversion and recycling.

"Building resiliency in our region is a key objective in Plan 20-50," said Colleen Sklar, executive director, Winnipeg Metropolitan Region. "This starts with improved data sharing and good working relationships across all levels of government, which ensure sound decision-making and an environment of trust."

The new Construction, Renovation and Demolition Task Force — which will include participation from the City of Winnipeg, Association of Manitoba Municipalities, Winnipeg Construction Association and the Manitoba Home Builders' Association — will submit a report with recommendations to the Manitoba government in the fall.

In Search of the Rainbow

I have set my bow in the clouds, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between me and the earth.

(Genesis 9:13)

On my way home recently, I spotted a double rainbow in the sky. Rainbows are always breathtaking on the prairies because we can see the full arc of the bow. Double rainbows seem like God's making an extra effort to send us a message and a reminder of the covenant the rainbow signifies. Rainbows remind us of God's promise never to flood the earth again, as in the time of Noah. They also are a reminder, to God and to us, that caring for every living creature is what binds us together as caretakers of the earth.

As we have seen the devastation in recent days on God's planet — the floods in Italy and India; the severe drought in western Sudan; the unprecedented wildfires here in Canada — it feels like we all need a rainbow reminder.

If you know a farmer, you know that each year, they are dealing with new uncertainties in the weather patterns. If you're a gardener, you've had to water more often this year.

Covenants require action from both parties in order for them to survive and thrive. Despite the popularity of the song, The Rainbow Connection, the dreamers are sometimes hard to find.

When God invites us to be a part of a covenant, we are invited to be dreamers who envision a new future. We are asked to model how to be God's rainbow people, as we call for change in how we care for the earth and all her creatures. God has promised not to be the creator of a massive environmental disaster — a flood that drown the whole earth — ever again. Have we?

God is counting on us. We're to live with both ends of the rainbow in mind. We need to remember that our actions are felt far away. And so, let's live as if every rainbow could be the last one we see.

Someday we'll find it, the rainbow connection, The (earth)lovers, the dreamers, and me.

Government invests in long-term system capacity with sleep disorder centre agreement

Submitted by Manitoba government

The Manitoba government has approved a new agreement with the Sleep Disorder Centre (SDC) at Misericordia Hospital to expand staff and add equipment to reduce sleep study backlogs and increase patient volume by 200 per month over the next two years, Health Minister Audrey Gordon announced last week.

“We are healing the health-care system and getting Manitobans the care they need,” said Gordon. “The quality of our sleep has a significant impact on our well-being and health, with thousands of Manitobans affected. A new agreement with the Sleep Disorder Centre aligns with our government’s commitment to building long-term system resilience into our health system.”

The SDC agreement is a nearly $1.8-million initiative funded by the Diagnostic and Surgical Recovery Task Force (DSRTF) that will expand the SDC team and add equipment such as sleep machines to build capacity to reduce sleep study backlogs and create long-term system resilience. The agreement includes implementing an at-home sleep study program to provide patients with more options.

Undiagnosed sleep disorders can increase the risk of diabetes, obesity, hypertension and heart disease. More complex cases or cases of rare sleep disorders will continue to be referred to the SDC for overnight, in-lab observed testing.

The current waitlist for sleep diagnosis is unable to be accurately defined by the DSRTF as that information is held exclusively by the SDC, the minister noted, adding that it is expected to be several thousand Manitobans waiting for testing. As a part of the agreement, the SDC will be required to share waitlist information with the task force to improve co-ordination of patients through central intake.

In addition to building capacity at the SDC and to provide Manitobans with a number of options to get the care they need faster, the minister noted the task force is also expanding an interim partnership agreement with Cerebra Medical. This agreement offers patients comprehensive, convenient and timely access to at-home testing, diagnosis, treatment planning and care — at no cost to them.

Manitobans who receive their sleep study and treatment planning from the SDC or from Cerebra Medical qualify for the Manitoba government’s continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) program therapy if required.

“We are pleased to extend our agreement with providers such as the SDC and Cerebra Medical to expand diagnostic and surgical care options for patients as we reduce wait times as quickly as possible,” said Dr. Peter

MacDonald, chair, Diagnostic and Surgical Recovery Task Force steering committee. “The Diagnostic and Surgical Recovery Task Force puts patient care first through permanent measures that are expanding and making lasting improvements to our public health system and innovative partnerships.”

The Manitoba government established the DSRTF in late 2021 to address waitlists for diagnostic and surgical procedures, and other related services affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. Supported by experts from across Canada, the team of respected local health-care professionals identify and implement short- and long-term solutions to improve surgical and diagnostic waitlists and make overall lasting improvements to Manitoba’s health-care system.

Applications being accepted for seniors hearing aid program

Submitted by Manitoba government

The Manitoba government is now accepting applications for the new $12.6-million hearing aid program that will provide funding assistance to eligible Manitoba seniors who need hearing aids, Seniors and Long-term Care Minister Scott Johnston announced last week.

“Untreated hearing loss is linked with social isolation, difficulty communicating, increased risk of falls, cognitive decline and dementia,” said Johnston. “Hearing aids provide valuable benefits to improve quality of life, and this program will ensure more Manitoba seniors have the financial means to access them.”

The Manitoba Seniors Hearing Aid Program is open to individuals aged 65 or older with a net household income under $80,000. Approved applicants can receive up to $2,000 for hearing aids, including fitting costs.

To apply for the grant, individuals must submit:

- a program application form;
- a “Proof of Income” statement from the Canada Revenue Agency; and
- a prescription or audiogram from a certified hearing aid dealer licensed in Manitoba.

Individuals must receive an approval letter before purchasing hearing aids, noted the minister.

“Our government developed Manitoba, A Great Place to Age: Provincial Seniors Strategy as a strong foundation for improved seniors care,” said

Johnston. “This new program aligns with its strategic priorities to enhance financial security for Manitoba seniors and create safe, inclusive, accessible communities with convenient, affordable access to comprehensive services and supports.”

who lost his battle to mental health.

TCI staff, friends and family came together for the Walk for Miles to raise funds and awareness for mental health resources.

Regnier said it’s never easy to say goodbye to a loved one, especially when they’ve left us too soon. Miles was a special friend who touched the lives of many. But behind his smile, Miles struggled with mental health issues, ultimately losing his battle.

Regnier attended Teulon Collegiate and met Miles at the beginning of the school year in 2022. They connected through mutual friends.

Regnier struggles with her mental health and when she met Miles, they connected. Regnier said, “Miles was the new kid in school and did not have many friends yet.”

When they met, they became friends quickly.

Miles was more than just a friend to those who knew him. He left an indelible mark on his community, and his loss was felt deeply by all who loved him.

Regnier described Miles as “very outgoing, not afraid of anything, and was always wanting to try new things.” Regnier speaks openly about her mental health challenges and the importance of seeking help when needed.

As Regnier explained, asking for help can be incredibly difficult.

“It is really scary to reach out and be vulnerable, but it is the No. 1 thing that will help get through the hard times struggling with mental health,” she says.

“It takes courage to admit that we are struggling with our mental health and to reach out to others for support. But it is also the most important thing we can do when we’re going through a tough time.”

Following the separation of her parents, Regnier remained in Teulon for a time with her mom. Her struggles continued, and she decided she needed to change her life. She moved to the city where she had more resources accessible and necessary to support her mental health.

Regnier talks about how big life changes such as family separation, a move from home or the loss of a loved one can be triggers for someone already struggling with mental health.

She emphasizes the importance of support and resources in communities.

“Resources such as help-line numbers in bathroom stalls would be a good step as that was a space where she would often go,” said Regnier. “Having adults on the other end of help-lines sometimes opens the conversation on a more serious note for youth. Sometimes it’s more heard if an issue or concern comes from another adult than a kid.”

Regnier’s experiences inspired her to advocate for mental health resources for the Teulon community. Through sharing her story and being open with those around her, she raised $1,500 at the Walk for Miles. She hopes these funds will fund vital resources for young people struggling with mental wellness in Teulon.

Regnier is very grateful for her family and friends for their support. She says she wouldn’t have been able to do it without them. She also wants to say thank you to the family and friends of Miles for being a part of the walk as it meant the world to have people from his life all together working for a common cause in his memory.

Regnier hopes her efforts will make a difference in someone else’s life — just as Miles made a difference in hers. With better access to education and resources on mental health awareness within their community, she hopes that no young person ever has to struggle alone again.

Editor’s Note: Signs to look for in people who struggle with mental health: fidgeting or shaking and distancing or isolating oneself from others or activities they enjoy.

Remember: even if you’re unsure of what you’re feeling or how best to express yourself, there is always someone ready and willing to listen. You are never alone in your struggles; seek help if you need it today.

Efficiency Manitoba expands income eligibility for its energy efficiency assistance program

Approximately 40 per cent of Manitoba households could qualify for free and significantly subsidized energy efficiency upgrades

Submitted by Efficiency Manitoba

Efficiency Manitoba has revised its income thresholds to ensure more Manitoba households are eligible to access free and significantly subsidized energy efficiency upgrades through its income-based Energy Efficiency Assistance Program. The program assists homeowners and tenants in implementing energy efficiency upgrades to their homes to reduce their monthly energy bills, while also helping improve the comfort of their homes.

"This program is an important part of our government's commitment to helping Manitobans save money on their energy bills while reducing our province's carbon footprint," said Kevin Klein, minister of Environment and Climate and the minister responsible for Efficiency Manitoba.

"By supporting energy-efficient home upgrades and renovations, this program is making a real difference in the lives and budgets of families and individuals across the province. With this change, more people can enjoy the benefits of an energy-efficient home, while also reducing their energy bills and playing a role in creating a more sustainable future for all Manitobans."

Program eligibility is based on low-income cut-off (LICO) values for urban centers with more than 500,000 residents, as determined by Statistics Canada. Efficiency Manitoba has increased these thresholds from LICO 125 (LICO plus 25 per cent) to LICO 145 (LICO plus 45 per cent) making more Manitobans eligible. This change means approximately 40 per cent or approximately 200,000 low- to moderate-income households in Manitoba will now qualify. The increase will see a two-person household now qualify with a total household income (before deductions) of $53,035 or less, while a four-person household will qualify with a total household income of $79,161 or less.

Efficiency Manitoba's Energy Efficiency Assistance Program helps to minimize the financial cost to households by providing free or significantly subsidized energy efficiency upgrades while also simplifying the process for customers through a turn-key approach. All participants receive a free home energy check-up from an energy advisor and have free energy-saving devices installed in their homes. Homeowners and renters may also be eligible for a free insulation upgrade or a subsidized natural gas furnace or boiler upgrade; Efficiency Manitoba will connect the customer with a registered contractor to complete the upgrade.

Efficiency Manitoba is dedicated to working with Manitobans at a community level to ensure homeowners and renters are aware of the Energy Efficiency Assistance Program and can easily participate.

The Consumers' Association of Canada (CAC) Manitoba applauded the change to the income threshold. The organization informs and educates consumers on marketplace issues and advocates on behalf of consumers with government and industry. Jacqueline Wasney is a board member of the CAC Manitoba and sits on an Advisory Committee for Efficiency Manitoba as an advocate for the consumer interest.

"A lot of what we're hearing is that people want to find solutions to help lower their bills for the long term," said Wasney. "Efficiency Manitoba is doing good work to help make home efficiency upgrades more affordable for more Manitobans. Investing in energy efficiency in our homes results in long-term savings, but they also mean people and families can enjoy much more comfortable homes and a little extra money in their pockets."

Manitoba small businesses at risk of closure as CEBA repayment deadline approaches

By Canadian Federation of Independent Business

Over 8,000 small businesses — 19 per cent of all small businesses in Manitoba — could be at risk of closing their doors after 2023 unless the federal government changes the deadline to repay the Canada Emergency Business Account (CEBA) loan, warns the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB). If the deadline isn't extended, small businesses will lose the forgivable portion as of Dec. 31, 2023, which will add up to $20,000 more to their debt and cause them to face five per cent interest on the full balance.

"The message from small businesses is loud and clear: they need more time to repay their CEBA loan. With only half of small businesses back to normal sales, most businesses — particularly in the arts, recreation, hospitality and the service sectors — will need extra runway," said Dan Kelly, CFIB president. "Financial institutions still have time to delay repayment processes if the government extends the CEBA deadline, but that window is closing. Ottawa needs to act now."

A new report released today by CFIB entitled Back in Business? Spring Update on Small Business and CEBA also includes the following key results:

Of the nine in 10 (90%) Manitoba small businesses that used CEBA, over two-thirds (68%) accessed loans between $40,001 and $60,000, while one quarter received loans of up to $40,000. Only 12 per cent of Manitoba CEBA users have repaid their loans.

A total of 42 per cent of Manitoba CEBA users risk missing the current repayment deadline by end of 2023. Small businesses in the arts, recreation and information (62%), hospitality (61%) and social services sectors (46%) are most likely to miss the current CEBA deadline.

The smallest businesses with 0-4 employees are the most likely to miss the repayment deadline (49%).

Even among the 46 per cent of Manitoba small business owners who indicate they will meet the 2023 deadline, over half (51%) say they will struggle to do so, and 55% would like to see an extension of the per cent repayment deadline.

"Most business owners want to repay the loan on time in order to secure the forgivable portion, but many of them still can't guarantee they can do it. Our analysis suggests that most small firms expect to struggle in the process, putting their businesses' future at risk," said Simon Gaudreault, chief economist and vice-president of research at CFIB. "The closer we get to the end of this year, the more uncertainty a CEBA status quo will create for thousands and thousands of businesses."

CFIB is pushing the federal government to provide some relief to small businesses by:

Extending the repayment deadline for the CEBA loan to the end of December 2025 or at least 2024

Considering additional debt forgiveness

Implementing an appeal process for CEBA loan recipients that are now deemed ineligible

"The CEBA loan, which once served as a pivotal economic lifeline during the nearly two years of COVID restrictions, is now a source of immense stress and anxiety for small businesses. Ottawa must give them more time, or we will see more 'permanently closed' signs in the coming months," said Corinne Pohlmann, senior vice-president of national affairs at CFIB. "If nothing changes, the consequences will be serious not just for affected businesses, but also for their employees and the wider economy."

Business owners can sign CFIB's petition to government to extend the CEBA repayment deadline.

Father's Day fun at Oak Hammock Marsh

By Jennifer McFee

If you're looking for a Father's Day outing, Oak Hammock Marsh is offering a fun-filled event for the whole family.

On Sunday, June 18, young and young-at-heart can enjoy the Father's Day Waterbug Derby.

"It's a really fun event for the whole family — kids can join in, moms can join in, dads can join in. Everyone can participate," said Jacques Bourgeois of Oak Hammock Marsh.

"Basically, we give them a dip net and a pail, and they go around the boardwalk trying to scoop up all the different species of creatures in the marsh."

Different points are awarded for different species, and prizes will be awarded to families who catch the highest diversity of bugs.

"Because of the heat and the warm weather, there are lots and lots of critters in the marshes. When it was a bit cooler a few weeks ago, there wasn't as much diversity, but now everything has just come out. It's so alive. It's very fun to watch," Bourgeois said.

"There's dragonfly nymphs, damselfly nymphs, mayfly, tiny little water fleas — all sorts of creatures. Some of them you might think of as a flying creature, such as the dragonfly. Meanwhile, they spend a lot more of their lifecycle under the water. They spend years in the water before becoming an adult. When they're an adult, they have about four weeks left to live, so basically the aquatic lifecycle for many insects is much more important than the aerial one."

In addition to the Father's Day festivities, Oak Hammock Marsh is hosting a full calendar of exciting events.

On Saturday, June 17, the Tiny Tot Walk is specifically geared for caregivers to bring toddlers and wee ones in strollers to explore the marsh with a guide.

Another interesting opportunity is a special session called Cooking With Cattails on Saturday, June

The Acher sisters are checking to see what they caught in the marsh.

"Most people don't realize that cattails are so delicious and nutritious. It actually has about 10 times the starch of a potato in the roots and the stems. The stems are my favourite part, and you can just eat them raw. It reminds me of a mixture between cucumber, watermelon and celery all mixed in together. It's a nice addition to a salad or a bowl of pasta," Bourgeois said.

"Before the seed head turns brown, you can actually eat it like corn on the cob. Believe it or not, it almost tastes like corn on the cob. Above the brown seed head, there's a yellow part that's like pollen. You can harvest that and turn it into flour. If you want to bake bannock, bread, cookies, muffins, it will turn your baking bright yellow and it actually adds protein to it as well. It's a really good survival plant."

On Sunday, June 25, the Stroll in the Marsh event will take a slow pace with accessible entries and exits as well as benches for breaks along the way.

With three milestone anniversaries to celebrate this year, visitors can look forward to special events each month.

"This year is the 30th of the Wetland Discovery Centre, it's the marsh's 50th anniversary, and it's Ducks Unlimited Canada's 85th anniversary. So there are going to be celebrations throughout the year. Instead of having one big birthday celebration, we've decided to have something special every 30th day of the month," Bourgeois said.

"For the 30th of June, we're doing a Birding 101 for people who would like to get into birding but don't really know how to. They can learn how to select binoculars, what to look for when you're looking for birds and so on."

poweshiek skipperling is an example of a butterfly that relies on the existence of a tall grass prairie to survive. As a result of the loss of habitat, it is now an endangered species.

While it may sound counter-intuitive to some, a partial or near complete controlled burn of the prairie is the best to maintain a tall grass prairie, said Daher.

Native species have adapted over thousands of years to store energy in their roots, whereas most non-native species store energy above ground. A controlled burn therefore reduces non-native species and allows the native species to return and thrive.

'Smoke alarm for every family' program renewed

Submitted by the Manitoba government

The Manitoba government, through the Office of the Fire Commissioner, is once again offering the Smoke Alarm for Every Family (S.A.F.E. Family) program, in partnership with the Manitoba Firefighters' Burn Fund, Municipal Relations Minister Andrew Smith announced Monday.

"The risk of dying in a reported home fire is reduced 50 per cent in homes with working smoke alarms," said Smith. "Smoke alarms save lives — but they need to be properly installed, equipped with functioning batteries and within their 10-year service life."

The goal of the S.A.F.E. Family program is to save lives by protecting every home with a working smoke alarm and encouraging residents to make and practise a home fire escape plan.

Any homeowner without a working smoke alarm can apply to receive one. Only owner-occupied homes qualify for the S.A.F.E. Family program, since landlords are legally responsible for installing and maintaining smoke alarms in rental units.

Fire departments will focus on identifying homes with at-risk residents including older adults, newcomers to Canada, young children, people with disabilities and low-income families.

"The recent rash of fires in both vacant and occupied residences points out the seriousness of the issue for the public and firefighters, along with the number of adults and children who are admitted each year with serious and life-threatening burn injuries" said Martin Johnson, chair, Firefighters' Burn Fund of Manitoba. "The Firefighters' Burn Fund is pleased to be in partnership with the Office of the Fire Commissioner and Manitoba's fire departments in the delivery of this vital program."

Since the program started in 2015, fire departments across the province have installed more than 7,500 smoke alarms in eligible homes, the minister noted.

For more information on the S.A.F.E. Family program, contact a local fire department or visit www.manitoba.ca/safefamily.

Annual Touch a Truck raises $25,000

Staff

Attendees were all revved up for Touch-A-Truck last weekend, and the fundraising event proved to be another success.

On Saturday, June 10, about 2,300 people converged at the Ag Society's Red Barn for the Touch-A-Truck, an annual event that raises funds for Stonewall Children's Centre.

Pam Kozokowsky, assistant director of the Stonewall Children's Centre, estimates that this year's event brought in about $25,000 for the facility. They plan to add turf and rubber to the backyard, as well as lots of other nature-related areas.

Some of the most popular attractions included military vehicles, a helicopter, fire trucks, a combine, and the super cars and trucks.

"Everything was a hit. Barrel train rides are always a favourite. There was excitement everywhere," she said.

"I love seeing how happy everyone is at the event — that is my favourite part. Thank you to everyone that helped make Touch-A-Truck 2023 a huge hit."

She encourages everyone to mark their calendars for next year's event, which will be held on June 8, 2024.

Violett's Cakes offers sweet treats in Stonewall

By Jennifer McFee

A newcomer from Ukraine has launched a sweet business to tempt tastebuds in her new community of Stonewall.

It's been exactly a year since Violetta and Ivan Mikho moved to Canada. Sponsored by Stonewall's New Life Church, the engaged couple arrived in their new country on June 15, 2022, and the church hosted an unforgettable wedding for them 10 days later.

Soon after, Violetta began working at Spruce Acres Landscaping as an office administrator.

"I really love to work there," she said. "I didn't see such a friendly, attentive and professional team who love what they do before."

In autumn 2022, Violetta and Ivan also started taking orders for her delicious baking.

As the business gained momentum, they created a logo and decided on a name — Violett's Cakes.

"We are baking different kinds of cakes and cupcakes with custom designs," Violetta said. "Also, we added a new dessert — baklava."

For Violetta, baking has been a lifelong interest.

"I started to bake when I was 11. Nobody taught me how to do it. I saw videos and lectures on making cakes, and I experimented a lot with different kinds of cakes," she said.

"When I entered to the university, I realized that I can't live without baking and found a bakery where we made keto desserts without sugar. In a year, I had an offer to become a chef of the bakery."

Violetta Mikho is taking orders for her delicious baking.

Another key ingredient to her success is attentive customer service.

"For me, it's not even about baking but about

Local turkey farmer shares the history of family farm

By Emma McGill

Having inherited a turkey farm that's been running for about 70 years, Eric Dueck of Frontier Turkey Farm appreciates Turkey Month for the sake of advertising turkey.

His is a breeder farm; they produce eggs that are sent to Charison's Turkey Farm to hatch. Dueck's farm started in the 1950s and was one of the first turkey producers in the Bifrost-Riverton area. His grandparents, Leonard and Linda Dueck, bought undeveloped land with a cousin, Delmer, and his wife Linda's sister Betty. Between the two of them, they worked to clear the land and moved there from Morris, where the Mennonites had settled after coming over from Ukraine in 1874. Leonard's grandpa moved from the Ukraine to Canada when he was nine years old.

Leonard and Linda settled in the Interlake because the land was cheap and, according to Dueck, the government wanted Mennonites to work the land because of their farming skills.

"They were one of the first six families to start this community north of Riverton," says Dueck. "They built tiny little houses and started working the land. They got into turkeys because my grandpa's father-in-law had extras one year. I've always been proud of being a third generation turkey farmer here in the Interlake."

When they get new turkeys, they come at about a day old and are put into a heated, insulated barn. They have to be watched almost 24 hours a day for the first few days to make sure the birds are getting feed and water and not piling up on each other.

As the turkeys grow, they're moved from barn to barn. They start in the heated barn, then are moved to an open-sided barn at about four weeks old. They start laying eggs at about 30 weeks old, and the work becomes more intense: egg collecting begins. Shifts are taken from 4 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"As long as your feeding systems and your waters are working properly, it's smooth," says Dueck.

a week to inseminate every turkey, which can be up to 9,500 birds. The most eggs Dueck's farm has ever gotten in one day has been close to 7,000. They started with almost 12,000 birds this year.

Their farm got automated nests in 2001 to help with collecting the eggs; the birds go in them all on their own and eggs are pulled onto a belt that moves into the egg room once an hour. The eggs are cleaned and disinfected then stacked in racks to be ready for pick-up.

The Duecks inseminate 9,500 turkeys a week.

Biosecurity is a huge concern for turkey farms all over as the avian flu is on the rise. Despite precautions, Dueck's entire flock was lost just last year. For almost 30 years they have been a shower-in facility to help protect the flock.

Avian influenza, known as "bird flu," is a viral infection that spreads easily and quickly among birds.

Turkey producers all across the Interlake bring our communities together in ways that we may not see every day. Whether it's through employment, the local economy or bringing turkey to your table, turkey farmers of Manitoba are there for everyone.

Turkey is a nutritional powerhouse and is called the "power protein."

Not only is turkey an excellent source of high quality protein, but also it's lean and nutrient-rich (meaning it has a whole lot of nutrients per calorie).

Like any poultry, it is important to cook turkey to the right temperate. Whole turkey and roasts are cooked when a meat thermometer reads 170°F (77°C) for unstuffed turkey or 180°F (82°C) for turkey stuffed with a dressing. Turkey cuts such as breasts, thighs, drumsticks and wings are cooked when it registers 165°F (74°C). Always insert your thermometer into the thickest part of the meat, away from any bones.

To ensure proper handling, those preparing a turkey can follow the set guidelines listed on the Manitoba Turkey Producers website turkey.mb.ca, such as properly handling, cooking and defrosting a turkey.

The Manitoba Turkey Producers website also has turkey recipes for ideas on what to make the next time you cook a turkey, whether using the whole bird or the leftovers after a big dinner with friends and family.

This month, support turkey farmers like the Duecks by enjoying some turkey.

Some great options are a whole turkey, turkey roast, turkey cuts like a breast, thigh or a couple of drumsticks, ground turkey or something quick and easy like frozen turkey burgers, sausages, ham or franks.

Happy Turkey Month!

Teulon 4-H Club celebrates member's achievements

By Annaliese Meier

The Teulon 4-H Club recently celebrated their members' achievements at the Green Acres Art Centre on May 28.

This event was a culmination of months of hard work and dedication by nine club members who completed their projects successfully and received recognition for their hard work.

Christine Tronrud, head leader and South Interlake 4-H Area Council treasurer of Teulon 4-H Club, shared some of the club's successes during the event. As a leader, she has played an integral role in encouraging and supporting the members to achieve their goals.

The Teulon 4-H Club is proud to have had two of its members, Lucy Hunt and Kiera Waldbauer, excel in the South Interlake Area Communications event. The event was held in Winnipeg Beach last March where they both placed first in their respective categories.

Lucy Hunt competed with her speech titled "Wolves" under the Junior Speech category, demonstrating her confidence.

Kiera Waldbauer gave an equally compelling speech entitled "What If" during the Senior Speech Category competition. Her hard work paid off as she received recognition for placing second in the Provincial 2nd Place Trophy awarding ceremony that took place on April 15 in Brandon.

Kiera Waldbauer also received $200 as a graduating member of the Teulon club.

Thanks to Tronrud's efforts, the club was able to secure a $500 grant from FCC. The funds helped restart the club's equine initiative after it was put on hold due to various reasons.

"The equine program stopped when the leader went off to university and then the pandemic hit, which put programming on hold. Sherri Anderson was willing to share her expertise with us," said Tronrud.

Anderson of Barefoot Ranch, located just north of Teulon, led this program, which is great for horse enthusiasts in the area. The grant was presented during the club's Achievement Day on May 28 at Green Acres Art Centre.

Kate Rawlings (secretary), Charlee Tronrud (treasurer), Kiera Waldbauer (president) and Christine Tronrud (head leader) were all present to receive the cheque on behalf of the club. This financial assistance will provide an opportunity for members interested in horses to learn more about these majestic animals through hands-on experiences and mentorship programs.

The Teulon 4-H Club had the honour of hosting this year's South and North Interlake Volunteer and Leader Appreciation dinner on May 4. The event was a great success, with members from various clubs in attendance.

The dinner was sponsored by the Manitoba 4-H Council in Brandon, which provided an opportunity for everyone to come together and celebrate their hard work throughout the year.

"Thanks so much for all the help that the community provided."

When they first arrived, the community rallied together to gather items that Violetta and Ivan would need for their new life. They're grateful for the community's support, and Vio-

THE EXPRESS WEEKLY NEWS

“History in the making”: Red River Métis vote to ratify modern-day treaty

Submitted by the Red River Métis

In the largest Red River Métis event of all time, 4,000 citizens gathered to unite in a historic vote to unanimously ratify the Red River Self-Government Treaty, which protects our governance rights in Canada’s constitution.

Our assemblies have always been crucial in Red River Métis collective and democratic decision-making and action-taking. The vote was part of the Manitoba Métis Federation’s (MMF) Extraordinary General Assembly (EGA) at the Assiniboia Downs on June 3 and 4. In addition to virtual participation, citizens could vote from satellite locations in Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver, Thompson, The Pas, Dauphin and Selkirk.

MMF president David Chartrand called the assembly a “day of reckoning” for our people during his State of the Nation address.

“Let’s never forget that this country made a promise that they would settle a treaty with our great leader Louis Riel. That they would settle the treaty with your families, my families. They did not fulfill that promise,” said Chartrand. “They dismissed that promise, abandoned that promise. In fact, they sent an army to come and chase us off our lands, fight us, and that’s where the Reign of Terror comes. The Reign of Terror that tortured our families, raped our women, beat our men, burnt our houses and took whatever they wanted.

“Those days of us being afraid are gone,” said Chartrand. “We fear no one, and we’ll take on anyone that hurts our people, no matter who they are, where they live and what they try to do to our people.”

Chartrand said despite what was stolen from our people 153 years ago, the Red River Métis have never lost their spirit.

Scott Norquay of the Interlake region, with MMF president David Chartrand, participated at the Extraordinary General Assembly.

“We are the only ones that have the Red River Jig. We’re the only ones that have the Red River Cart. We’re the only ones that are flower beadwork people. We’re the only ones that speak Michif,” he said. “We’re the only ones that have our culture, and we will let no one try to steal your culture.”

This modern-day treaty is the most critical decision the Métis have made since the Red River Resistance formed the Provisional Government in 1869. The treaty results from a decade-long step-by-step process of earlier AGA resolutions and agreements. The July 2021 signing of the Manitoba Métis Self-Government Recognition Agreement with Canada — which established the MMF as the existing government of the Red River Métis, recognizing our constitution, assembly and other governance institutions — set the foundation for the treaty. Following a series of 17 consultations with citizens across the Homeland, the EGA was our ultimate decision-making body and authority for acceptance of the treaty.

“Today, you are about to make history. Today, we have taken ourselves to a place that they stole from us 153 years ago,” said Chartrand. “Today is about a dream that’s going to become real. Today is about change — change that will make a difference for your children and grandchildren.”

In addition to the historic ratification vote, citizens voted to continue Manitoba Métis Federation Inc. into the Canada Not-for-Profit Corporations Act and Resulting Constitutional Amendment. Votes also passed to amend the MMF Constitution to reflect the treaty and enact the Red River Métis Finance and Administration Act.

While temperatures outside hovered in the mid-30s and a heat warning gripped the city, resilient citizens remained in their seats for the momentous occasion.

Sherri-Lynn Nelson, a citizen in the southeast region, said she is very blessed to witness the culmination of hard work and the sacrifices of our ancestors.

“I’m so grateful, and I’m so honoured. This means a lot to me to be able to be here in person, to be able to vote, and to have a vote,” she said. “I just want to say how much respect and how much gratitude I have towards president Chartrand and all the cabinet ministers and all the hard work that they’ve done.”

The Red River Self-Government Treaty is another step in the historic path to protect our rights to self-determination and self-government, cementing the legacy for future generations. This treaty sets the tone for our nation-to-nation and government-to-government relationships. Renewing the partnership we sought in our 1870 treaty with Canada, the Red River Self-Government Treaty sets a mandate for Canada and the MMF to conclude fiscal and taxation arrangements. It will allow the national government of the Red River Métis to make constitutionally protected governance laws, which will help us preserve our culture, ways of doing and identity.

The treaty is expected to be ratified in Parliament and become part of Canada’s Constitution in the fall of 2023. The treaty also identifies areas for further negotiations and agreements with the Government of Canada, in sectors such as education, health, families and children.

The Rainbow Auction, organized by Infinity Women Secretariat, raised $19,040 toward the Bereavement Fund, with Métis N4 Construction donating to increase the total balance to $30,000.

During his State of the Nation address, MMF President David Chartrand called the Assembly a “day of reckoning” for our people.

Good inducted into Judo Manitoba Hall of Fame

By Brian Bowman

Milton Good got involved in judo when he was just 11 years old.

The well-respected 66-year-old is still heavily involved in the sport and received an extremely well-deserved honour when he was inducted into the Judo Manitoba Hall of Fame as a builder on June 4 in Winnipeg.

"It was a very nice surprise and a great honour for them to do that for me," said the Balmoral Judo Club's Good last week. "It was an emotional night for me to receive that award and have my family there and my judo family there. The banquet was great, it was a big success. We had a place that held 100 people and it was a sellout. It was great to have my family there, both my kids and grandchildren, except one who lives in Saskatoon and, of course, wasn't able to make it. Plus, I had my judo family (there). My instructors from my judo club were there so it was nice to have them all there for that."

Judo has been a large part of Good's life for many, many years.

"I started in 1968 and my mom and dad put me in it and I joined a club in Teulon. I was kind of a skinny, little kid and ... once I got going, I just loved it. It got in my blood, I guess, and here I am 50-some years later and I'm still going."

Good has had the great fortune to train a lot of athletes over the years.

Milton Good and his wife Joan at the banquet. Good was very grateful for all of the support Joan has given him over the years.

He impacted those athletes in so many ways.

"It's been very rewarding. Over the years, I've had over a thousand people, and that's a very conservative number, go through our club," Good said. "I still see people and I have had people come with their children and grandchildren to the club. That, to me, is great. Working over the years with the kids has been something. You affect their lives and hopefully in positive ways. I've enjoyed it, I've loved it, it's been my life."

"I can't stop. I enjoy it and I enjoy doing judo and I enjoy being out there with the kids," he said. "It keeps me active, keeps me healthy. If I stop and sit down, you get lazy and old. This keeps me active and going."

Good was extremely appreciative of all of the support his wife Joan has given him over all of these years.

"I could not have done this without her," he said. "She's been the best. If I'm going to a tournament or going away and, before she had her health issues, she was always with me. She would come to the tournaments and travel with me and was always at the club. She had a stroke a few years ago so it has kind of slowed her down and doesn't travel as much. She's still very supportive."

U13 Phillies win silver at International Classic Tournament in Brandon

Submitted

The U13 Phillies softball team battled hard and earned a silver medal at the International Classic Tournament in Brandon over the weekend.

The Phillies began the tournament with a strong 3-1 record in the round robin. On Friday, they dominated their opening game with a 12-3 victory over the Smitty's Terminators. Then, later that day, despite going into an extra tie-breaker inning against the Westman Magic, the Phillies fell short with a 4-3 loss. They rebounded on Saturday, defeating the Manitoba Angels 8-1 and then triumphed over a strong Eastman Wildcats team with a hard-fought 9-6 win.

Entering the semifinals Sunday morning, the Phillies faced off against Magic for a second time and managed a 6-5 victory, securing their place in the gold-medal game. The Phillies squared off against the Wildcats again in the final, but ultimately came up short 7-2.

The Phillies' top four hitters each had an impressive six hits over the course of the tournament. Katie Braid led the team with two home runs.

Phillies' pitchers showcased their talent with just over 32 innings pitched, recording 45 strikeouts and only allowing 17 earned runs over six games.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
